Keen to Get Into Action

First of 'Flying Aussies' Reach Canada for Training

Looking smart in their uniforms of Royal Blue, the first of thousands of Australian airmen who will train in Canada for service overseas, are shown, top picture, trooping down the gangplank at a west coast Canadian port. Lower, some of the fliers ashore.

Vanguard of the hosts of Australasian airmen to set foot on Canadian soil under the British Commonwealth air training scheme reached a Canadian west coast port early today after an uneventful 6,000-mile voyage from the Antipodes.

The "Flying Aussies," young, alert, of rugged physique and deeply tanned by the southern sun, represent the advance guard of thousands of Australian and New Zealand fliers who will come to Canada within the next few months to complete training with Canadian fliers before going overseas to help the R.A.F. drive the Nazis out of the skies.

Canada gave a hearty welcome to the Australians as they got their first glimpse of these shores.

Air Vice-Marshal S. J. Goble, C.B.E., D.S.O., D.F.C., chief R.A.A.F. liaison officer attached to the R.C.A.F., was on hand to extend a personal greeting to the airmen from the Commonwealth.

Others in the greeting party were: Officers of the Western Air Command, including Flying Officer A. H. Hunt, Flying Officer R. A. Whitman, Flying Officer J. E. B. Johnson, Flight-Lieut. R. M. Wynd and Flight-Lieut. J. M. Grant of the pay corps.

WELCOMED BY AIR MARSHAL
Air Vice-Marshal Goble, who was attended by his personal aide, Flight-Lieut. J. F. Lawson, went aboard, inspected the men lined up on the promenade deck, after which they were each given a sum of money to take care of their immediate needs and dismissed to go sightseeing in the city.

Flight-Lieut. R. A. Hendy, R.A.A.F., officer in command of the Australians, was particularly proud of his men.

Most of them, he said, had qualified with 50 hours flying, and some of them had 25 hours solo to their credit.

"The Flying Aussies" are well representative of Australia, coming from every part of the Commonwealth. Two of the boys, W. J. Shirliffe and F. A. V. Drummond, are New Zealanders, who went to Australia, to join the R.A.A.F., and one other, a Britisher, is from Singapore. With these exceptions, the airmen are all native-born Australians.

The men are of the finest type of air material, ranging from 18 to 20 years. Some of them were holding civil licenses before they joined up with the R.A.A.F.

The R.A.A.F. embraces some 6,000 men and several thousand are standing by awaiting call for service. More than half of them are pilots and the balance are sergeant pilots, who will be given every opportunity to make the grade.

TRAINEE PILOTS
The men arriving on this coast today are called "trainee pilots."

They have completed their preliminary training in Australia and will now take the advanced course in Canada.

As in Canada and other countries of the British Commonwealth, the youth of Australia are air-conscious to a remarkable degree. There are 6,000 in the air reserve at the present moment.

The mercantile service of New Zealand and Australia has been partially decimated by young men who have resigned to join the air service.

Many of the young fellows who know Canada well by their association with the Canadian-Australasian steamship service, have joined up and will soon be coming through here in a different role.

"FOUR MASCOTTERS"
A gay quartette of the men arriving today are known as the "Four Mascoters," derived from the interesting fact that they have been inseparable companions since they started their air training at the Mascot aerodrome at Sydney. They are C. C. Cotton of Broken Hill, N.S.W., and Ken Hicks, Selwyn Clark and Alex Kerr, all of Perth, Western Australia.

"We shall be glad to get into action, I can tell you," said Cotton. "The men are tired of being away from airplanes during the ocean crossing."

"We are all keen for service aloft and are eager to complete our training so that we can join in the fun over there," cut in F. G. Sheppard, who comes from the ranges of South Australia.

"I am sure we shall all be sorry to leave our Canadian hosts, but we have a job to do and shall be anxious to get over there," was the way J. Kinnane, of Adelaide, South Australia, put it.

"We are the lucky ones, but the rest of the boys will soon be coming along," said R. A. Roberts, who hails from Lismore, on the Queensland border.

Trailing down the gangway after inspection and dismissal, the young airmen piled into buses and taxi cabs, while others walked, all eager to see what the city had to offer in diversion and entertainment.

The monotony of the voyage from the South Seas was relieved by organized games and lectures, said Flight-Lieut. Hendy, who is well satisfied with the men in his charge.

Sergeant H. C. Brown, who put the men through their paces, outlined the daily exercise program.

"Physical jerks at 6.30 a.m., then during the day lectures on navigation, administration and so on." The weather was fair throughout the voyage and the fliers enjoyed every minute of it. Wing Commander Hull welcomed the airmen on behalf of the Dominion government.

Later in the day the official welcome will be extended by Air Minister C. G. Power and Sir William Glasgow, Australian high commissioner to Canada, both of whom are on the coast from Ottawa.

H.M.C.S. Prince Robert Makes Fine Capture

German Speed Freighter Prize of Canadian Crew

The Canadian armed merchant cruiser H.M.C.S. Prince Robert, Commander Charles T. Beard, R.C.N., last night captured the German express cargo ship Weser, reported to be loaded with 19,000 barrels of diesel oil for Nazi submarines. The Prince Robert overhauled the Weser off Manzanillo, Mexico, and placed a prize crew aboard. Courses were then set for Esquimalt, which port should be reached in about one week.

Announcement of the Robert's capture was made in Ottawa this morning by Hon. Angus MacDonald, Minister of the Navy. He summoned newsmen to his office earlier than usual.

The news was applauded throughout the city as the Prince Robert is regarded as a Victoria ship and her commanding officer and many of the officers and crew are local residents.

Mr. MacDonald did not give any additional details, and it is not known whether the Weser was armed or not.

The Weser has frequently figured in the news since war broke out. In November, 1939, she put into Punta Arenas, where it was reported she was interned. Last January there was a report she was being offered for sale to the Chilean government.

In July she sailed for Manzanillo and reached that port after being stopped by a Mexican gunboat. Her name had been changed to the Hopelam. Since then there were frequent reports she had been armed and that she was loaded with 19,000 barrels of oil and was preparing to escape to become a mother ship to a U-boat.

The Weser is 487 feet long, 9,180 tons, with a speed of 17 knots making her one of the largest and fastest of freighters.

RECENTLY COMMISSIONED

Only recently the navy minister announced the commissioning of the Prince Robert for the Canadian Navy. She is a former Canadian National Steamships cruise vessel, and was converted into an armed merchant cruiser at North Vancouver.

Unrecognizable as the white-topped luxury liner which plied to Alaska, the Prince Robert is an all-Canadian fighting ship. Although built in Great Britain she has operated entirely in British Columbia waters and is manned by 16 officers and 220 ratings, mostly from the Royal Canadian Naval Reserve.

Low-lying and vicious in her coat of wartime grey, the Prince Robert is capable of giving a good account of herself. The two gleaming white upper decks have been sliced off and muzzles of anti-aircraft guns and heavier armament point from the decks where tourists used to stroll.

DEPTH CHARGES

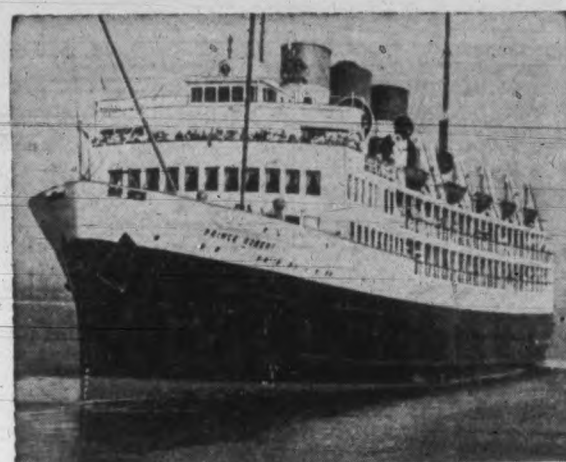

In addition to her guns, the Prince Robert carries depth charges and is equipped with 36-inch searchlights. Paravanes can be swung from the bow for mine-sweeping purposes.

Removal of her bulky superstructure is a big factor in the Prince Robert's wartime efficiency, according to Commander Beard. Low on the water, she would make a difficult target for enemy guns.

"The armed merchant cruiser has tremendous value for chasing any vessels larger than a destroyer and for scouting purposes," the commander said before leaving on the present cruise. The cruiser can shadow enemy ships until larger forces are brought up. "Her duty will be patrolling the ocean and denying it to enemy raiders."

The Prince Robert has a speed of 23 knots, probably higher at forced draught, and Commander Beard said she could give the German pocket battleship Deutschland a run for her money. She has a cruising radius of 7,000 miles, which is equalled by few ships.

There are only a few reminders of the pre-war luxury days aboard the 360-foot cruiser. The original panelling and some of the original furniture remain in the officers' ward room and the captain's quarters are little changed. Holds have been filled in for gun supports.

Even after the war the converted merchant ship may play a vital part in Canada's naval defence. Experienced naval men described her as ideal for a training ship.

Commander Beard is one of the veteran officers of the Royal Canadian Navy. He was born in Montreal 50 years ago, his mother being a Tascheran. He retired several years ago and operated a boatbuilding plant in the Inner Harbor until called back to duty at the outbreak of war. He was a member of the first class of cadets to enter the Royal Canadian Navy in 1908 and served continuously until his retirement. Prior to his retirement he served as commander-in-charge of the naval establishment at Esquimalt. On returning to duty he was commander-in-charge of Atlantic convoys and in April of this year was named to command the Prince Robert.

the capture of the German merchantman Hannover in the Caribbean Sea.

TOOK ITALIAN SHIP

Just after Italy entered the war H.M.C.S. Bras d'Or, a minesweeper of the Canadian Navy, captured the Italian vessel Capo Noli, 3,690 tons, after the Italian crew had run their vessel aground off the Big Islands, some 10 miles west of Rimouski, Quebec.

The Canadian Navy already has had an honorable part in the present war. Her destroyers have convoyed Canadian and Australian soldiers overseas and hundreds of merchant ships, rescued survivors of several shipwrecks and took part in the historic evacuation of Dunkerque.

The War Today

By GUY RHODES

FORECAST FOR BERLINERS

Berliners crouched in their shelters for five hours last night and complained of the early autumn cold while Royal Air Force planes swept across the industrial sections of the city and smashed at plants important to Germany's war effort.

For the 4,000,000 inhabitants of Hitler's capital it was a forecast of what is to come in the winter, a season which, even last year, brought severe fuel rationing throughout the Reich. Much more favorably placed is Britain, where the fuel problem is only one of distribution.

London's man in the street, glum over the withdrawal of Free French and British naval and land forces from the region of Dakar, ke to West Africa, smiled again when he read the Air Ministry's announcement of the Berlin raids. He had spent a considerable time in his shelter himself last night while German raiders continued to lay waste his beautiful home town.

FEW IDLE

Yet this morning everyone who had a place to work was on the job. Many shopkeepers had no windows in their stores and householders were busy hanging up substitutes for glass canvas or tar paper stretched on wooden frames, or boards nailed to the window sashes.

Britons sought to puzzle out the Ministry of Information's announcement of the Dakar withdrawal. The ministry said the attacking forces had found the defenders so well placed that to take the city would have involved a major assault, which the British government was unwilling to launch against its former allies who still hold allegiance to the German-dominated Petain-Laval government.

Nevertheless, it was believed in some circles the attack might have to be renewed with determination in the face of a possible axis thrust against Gibraltar. With Gibraltar negated, the Admiralty might well feel it must have Dakar as a base to continue its Atlantic blockade.

HOT TALK

Meanwhile the Italian press was full of strong talk, telling its people how warlike Spain was getting to feel. "That Franco's country, still catching its breath after a long and devastating civil war, was in a state of 'pre-belligerency' which might break out at the right moment into active help for Germany and Italy."

The Germans also were talking in a warlike vein of what Japan was going to do in the Orient and the German press suggested that an enlarged axis might make war upon the whole "imperialistic" democratic world, including the United States.

Meanwhile, 2,000 Japanese troops landed near Halphong in French Indo-China by agreement with the Petain-Laval regime. The agreement was being put into effect despite the recent forcible entry into Indo-China by Japanese forces crossing the Chinese border in violation, according to the French, of the terms.

Insulting to Soviet?

VANCOUVER (CP)—The trial of Wilfrid Ravener, Vancouver bookseller charged with having in his possession documents containing material likely to prove prejudicial to the safety of the state, was adjourned until Tuesday today when he appeared in police court here.

Ravener's counsel, Garfield King, charged the prosecution was insulting a friendly power—Russia—by submitting works of Premier Molotov and Josef Stalin as evidence against the accused. He also entered as an exhibit a telegram from the assistant librarian at Ottawa stating works by prominent Soviet officials were kept in the library of the House of Commons.

Air Minister Power Due Here Tomorrow

Hon. C. G. Power, Canada's Minister of National Defence for Air, will fly to Victoria tomorrow afternoon on an inspection trip of air bases on the southern end of Vancouver Island.

From here he will fly to Prince Rupert and the Queen Charlotte Islands.

Mr. Power reached Vancouver this morning by train. He expressed satisfaction over the progress of the Empire air training plan, and said the first contingent of Australia airmen to be trained in Canada, arriving today, would be followed by many more from the Antipodes.

Although declining to give detailed information, Mr. Power said he presumed the west coast would receive more men for the Royal Canadian Air Force.

"I'll know more about it after my trip," he said.

Bishop Sees Churchill

LONDON (CP)—Air Marshal W. A. Bishop, V.C., of the Royal Canadian Air Force, spent the greater part of his third day in England in the Whitehall area, conferring with Prime Minister Churchill among other personages.

Final Bulletins

70 to 1 Record

LONDON (CP)—Authoritative circles, commenting on today's German high command communique, said tonight:

"With regard to German figures for air losses, 26 German planes were in fact shot down yesterday, against four British planes with three pilots safe. In consequence, German losses in trained pilots and air crews amounted to 'no less than 70 to 1.'"

(The 70-to-1 ratio is based on an estimated average of three men killed or captured for each Nazi raider shot down.)

(The German high command claimed only six Nazi planes were lost yesterday.)

Islanders Suffer

LONDON (CP)—Food is strictly rationed, there is forced labor and the penalty of an attempt to escape is death in the once happy Channel Islands now occupied by the Germans, the British Broadcasting Corporation said this evening. It is forbidden to listen to a broadcast in English.

Embargo Hits Japan

NEW YORK (AP)—Steel industry sources this afternoon estimated Japan could acquire not more than 100,000 tons of steel scrap from the United States before the Presidential restrictions announced today go into force October 16.

In 1939, Japan set a record in the buying of scrap steel and iron, obtaining 2,270,076 tons.

'Airmen Win'—Bishop

LONDON (CP)—Air Marshal W. A. Bishop, V.C., of the Royal Canadian Air Force, told the British people over a British Broadcasting Corporation network tonight that Britain's airmen will drive the "pirate Huns from the skies of Europe" as they did 25 years ago.

"The British Commonwealth Air Training Plan is a tremendous success."

25 NAZI PLANES R.A.F. DAY'S BAG

LONDON (AP)—It was officially announced this evening that 19 German aircraft, including 11 bombers, had been destroyed by British fighters today.

Almost simultaneously, the Press Association announced six German raiders had been shot down in a dogfight over the southeast coast. As these were not included in the 19 officially reported down, the enemy's total indicated loss for the day was 25 planes.

Six British craft were destroyed, but two pilots parachuted to safety.

20th Night Raid

LONDON (CP)—Germans this evening opened their 20th consecutive night of air raids on London by flying in high and fast. The people took to their shelters once more. There was a heavy assault all along the southeast.

Shells Kill 2 in Dover

LONDON (CP)—Long-range guns flung shells across the Channel into Dover this afternoon while the Nazi assault on London was renewed by two waves of bombers.

The shells bursting in Dover killed a man and a woman, it was revealed tonight. For over an hour the bombardment continued.

The warplanes which flew against London did not penetrate to the centre of the city, but veered off about the time they reached the defence ring.

Nazi-Dakar Move

LONDON (CP)—Headquarters of the Free French forces in London declared late today in a communique that the authorities at Dakar, French West Africa, acted under German pressure when they fired on Gen. Charles de Gaulle's troops.

LONDON (CP)—British submarines have torpedoed three German supply ships, the Admiralty announced today. But the communiqué did not specify the date or place of the engagement.

It said the submarine H-49 attacked a convoy of eight supply vessels, scoring torpedo hits on two, and that the submarine Tuna reported the destruction of a large supply ship, which was screened by two destroyers.

Japan to Aid Germany If U.S. Goes Into War

TOKYO (AP)—A highly-qualified Japanese informant, picturing Washington as an unalterable opponent of Japanese expansion, declared today Japan is expected to go to active support of Germany if the United States enters the war.

Trustworthy advices received yesterday by the Associated Press said that Japan is expected soon to announce a new pact, perhaps a full alliance, with the Rome-Berlin axis.

The Japanese informant said his government finally is convinced that the United States is unalterably opposed to Japan's "legitimate" expansion in the Orient.

This source said "strengthening" of the anti-comintern pact of Germany, Italy and Japan had become one of the main objectives of Japanese diplomacy in the past year.

Meanwhile, he indicated, a non-aggression pact with Soviet Russia is not unlikely.

"Japan is and always will be opposed to Communism," he said, "but this doesn't mean that a working arrangement with the Russians cannot be effected."

(Recent Japanese press comment has urged rapprochement between Tokyo and Moscow and Japan recently changed her ambassador in Moscow for that ostensible purpose.)

SAYS PEACE SOUGHT

"Japan has consistently sought only peaceful, economic penetration of the Far East," said this informant, returning to the question of the United States.

"Our sphere of action lies here and we prefer not to send troops and warships to the various corners of the Far East to guarantee that penetration."

"However, the United States has consistently attempted to block Japan—Even during times when the British offered conciliation, the American policy increased in strength."

These sources said that last year, when a Japanese-German military alliance was under discussion, an influential group of Japanese still hoped to reach agreement with United States, but now there seemed to be no further hope in that direction.

Authoritative quarters indicated recent British-American talks regarding United States use of the Singapore naval base would materially accelerate a Japanese-German arrangement.

The Japanese foreign office remained silent, but other quarters noted the Berlin foreign office spokesman had denied all knowledge of any new arrangement with Japan.

London Ex-Editor Dies

BUDLEIGH SALTERON, Eng. (CP)—James Douglas, 73, editor of the Sunday Express from 1920 to 1931 and a former editor of the Star, died today. He published several novels and wrote a book of newspaper reminiscences called "Down Shoe Lane."

FOOD MISSION MAY VISIT BRITAIN

By R. K. CARNEGIE

OTTAWA (CP)—Inquiries from the United Kingdom as to Canada's ability to supply foodstuffs on a much larger scale than heretofore have brought before the cabinet the proposal of a party of government officials headed by a minister go almost immediately to Great Britain to ascertain just what the needs are and how best they can be met, the Canadian Press has learned.

The question has been before the cabinet at each recent meeting, and indications are a decision will be reached this week. As the inquiries have been chiefly for farm products, officials familiar with Canada's ability to grow the foods required would be selected if the government decides to send a party to London.

TO AVOID ARGUMENTS

"If an official party goes over," said a government spokesman, "it will not be with the object of seeking a market for Canadian products, but rather to see what the needs are and to make provision to supply them without haggling over prices."

"Last July we were worried about how we were going to handle our 30,000,000-pound surplus of bacon, and then in August the British Food Ministry stepped in and had the entire surplus moved to the United Kingdom," he continued. "It happened then that we had the surplus and it did not affect our domestic market."

The official explained subsequent inquiries have been for other farm commodities, also on a large scale.

"I think if Britain needs our stocks we should send them to her even if it means rationing Canadian people on certain farm products on which we have no great surpluses," he said. "Where our products usually bring higher prices than the United Kingdom can afford to pay, she should get them at prices she can afford rather than force her to use poorer products obtainable elsewhere. The Canadian government should make up the difference."

BACON DISCUSSION

Yesterday the Bacon Board met in Ottawa and began a canvass of the entire bacon situation. Hon. J. G. Taggart, chairman of the board, presided.

For several weeks negotiations have been in progress in London looking to a new bacon agreement to take the place of the existing one, which will terminate October 31.

"The bacon situation in Canada is very good at present," Mr. Taggart said, "but we are anxious to get the future cleared up. Canada is shipping more than the 5,600,000 pounds weekly called for by the agreement, and the supplies coming in are adequate for this flow as well as domestic requirements."

FIGHT WEIGHTS

JERSEY CITY (AP)—Max Baer, former world heavyweight champion, weighed in at 223½ for his 15-round battle with young Patrick Edward Comiskey, the New Jersey sensation, in the Roosevelt Stadium here tonight. Baer was two pounds heavier than when he fought Tony Galento in the same stadium last May. Comiskey scaled 207½.

Graziani's Drive Plans Upset

British Warships Pound Italians on Egypt's Coast

ALEXANDRIA (AP)—British naval forces again have shelled Italian supply bases and troop concentrations in the Sidi Barrani area of the Egyptian coast, inflicting heavy damage and leaving behind a trail of huge fires, British naval authorities announced today.

The warships were said to have moved into the waters a short distance off Sidi Barrani and fired at point-blank range, scoring direct hits on Italian military objectives.

A British naval communiqué said the new attack—the third in 10 days—was made about dawn yesterday. Many shells were said to have fallen in the heart of bases established by Marshal Rodolfo Graziani for his invasion of Egypt.

Waves of flames were seen to leap skyward and severe explosions followed. One huge fire was observed during two hours after the bombardment had ended.

No Enemy Warships Come Into Sight

The British claimed they apparently had further seriously disrupted Graziani's efforts to get his troops in advanced supply bases into fighting trim for a possible enlargement of his eastward thrust.

The British declared their warships were shelling Italian bases at will and thus far had not encountered any opposition from the Italian fleet.

The opinion was expressed by British authorities that their systematic attacks on concentrations along the coast, coupled with destructive bombings, had ruined Italian hopes of a renewed drive immediately after their 60-mile advance from Libya.

PETAIN INTERNS 2 EX-MINISTERS

VICHY (AP)—The Petain government announced today that Popular Front Senator Marx Dormoy and Deputies Jules Moch, Solomon Grunbach and Vincent Auriol have been confined in "administrative internment."

Auriol was Finance Minister and Dormoy was Interior Minister in the Blum Popular Front government.

Moch held the post of Under-secretary of State attached to the President of the Council, with the allied post of cabinet co-ordinator.

Grunbach was a Socialist deputy and reporter for the Chamber Foreign Affairs Commission.

The four parliamentarians will be interned in the village of Pellevoisin, in Indre department, and not in the Chazeron Chateau where former Gen. Gamelin and other leaders of France before the armistice are held.

The communiqué announcing the internment did not say whether the four new prisoners were taken into custody in connection with the "war blame" cases pending before the Supreme Court or under a recently promulgated decree against former ministers alleged to have misused public funds.

Trades Congress Backs Government

VANCOUVER (CP)—The 56th annual convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada voted overwhelmingly here today to support the Defence of Canada Regulations, overriding a small but noisy minority that sought support of resolutions hitting at what they termed curtailment of basic democratic rights.

The convention, by voting to support the executive committee's recommendations that no changes be urged in the Defence of Canada Regulations, tabled the resolutions criticizing the act.

Robert Hewitt of Winnipeg, representing the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen, and chairman of the committee on the Defence of Canada Regulations, in question he tabled and that the executive committee's recommendations be supported.

Little Damage

MADRID (AP)—Tuesday's air raid on Gibraltar by aircraft of the Vichy regime caused "surprisingly little" damage, Mrs. Joan Dixon, wife of the British air attaché in Madrid, said today.

Mrs. Dixon said that about 200 bombs were dropped and that four persons were killed and a dozen injured.

A bomb, said Mrs. Dixon, fell close to the battlecruiser Repown. (The Vichy Admiralty claimed a bomb hit had been scored on the Repown.)

'Taffrail' Praises Work of Navy

HALIFAX (CP)—Canada's naval forces are not engaged in "headline activity," but they are "doing wonderful work in the background," Capt. H. T. Dorling of the British Ministry of Information said in an interview here yesterday. Capt. Dorling writes under the name "Taffrail."

"The actual percentage of men of our navies who have been in actual contact with warships of the enemy is infinitesimal," he said. "But thousands of our seamen are toiling in the background, out of sight and out of mind, exposed to all sorts of filthy weather for weeks and months on end."

"It seems to me that there can be no greater credit in trading shells with the enemy than in doing this type of work. It is in this capacity, the captain asserted, "that you will find your Canadian seamen, doing wonderful work."

The Royal Canadian Navy, the Briton declared, has multiplied its peacetime size by 12 since the outbreak of war, and "your ships are at sea on the average of 20 to 25 days a month."

Addition of over-age United States destroyers to the British and the Canadian navies was "a most excellent increase at a very critical time. With a world-wide convoy system to maintain, every destroyer able to do its job is extremely valuable."

It was the task of her sea units to bring to Britain's shores seven-eighths of her food alone, to patrol 85,000 miles of trade routes in all corners of the globe, to "ensure the continuance of sea communications and to deny them to the enemy."

Capt. Dorling said "improvements are being made" in the oft-criticized ministry of information and that "relations with the press are getting better." But, he contended, much of the criticism has been "extremely unfair."

"The people should remember that Goebbels had a six-year start in molding a propaganda machine. We have made mistakes as everyone is bound to do, but much of the criticism certainly has not been deserved."

The press, the captain admitted, "co-operates wonderfully, although they are liable to fly off the handle once a week or so." The criticism, however, is "going down."

Capt. Dorling explained the delay in releasing information on the sinking of enemy submarines or other warships. In the first place, to make the news public immediately would give "invaluable information to the enemy, and let him send out replacements." In the second place, to keep it secret makes for "uncertainty in the other camp."

News of the loss of British ships was withheld until the next of kin were advised.

Capt. Dorling declined to elaborate on a statement that British and American co-operation may extend "to other areas of the globe," saying he had no comment to make on steps that may be taken in the Pacific.

He came out of retirement last year and has "been all over the place" with the Royal Navy since. But he had, seen no naval engagements.

"There haven't been many," he added with a smile. Capt. Dorling was naval correspondent for the London Times, and is noted as an author of tales of the sea.

Welsh Poet Dies

NAIWSWORTH, Gloucestershire, Eng. (CP)—William Henry Davies, 69, widely-known Welsh poet, died at his home here today. He became a poet and a doctor of literature of the University of Wales after years as a tramp in North America and as a worker on Atlantic cattle ships. When he returned to England he was a peddler of lace, pins and needles and a street singer of hymns. In 1905, at the age of 34, he wrote his first poems.

Stop Signs

Many stop signs confront people who are thinking of appointing an individual as executor.

If an individual is named and he dies, HIS executor automatically becomes YOUR executor.

He may be irresponsible financially.

He may be away for months at a time, when his absence is most awkward for the family.

He may become mentally incapable. Then the Court would appoint a substitute.

He may move away, and leave the estate's affairs in a muddle.

But, with The Canada Trust Company as executor, all of these things that have proved so costly to estates are avoided.

Big Berlin Power Stations Blasted

LONDON (CP)—The Air Ministry news service reporting on what was described in some sources as the Royal Air Force's greatest assault on Berlin, issued the following bulletin today:

"From soon after 10 (Wednesday night) until the early hours of this morning heavy bombers of the Royal Air Force kept up a series of attacks on important military objectives in and around Berlin.

"Four separate attacks within an hour were made on the Klingenberg power station situated in the heart of the industrial section to the east of the city.

"This station, known as the Gross Kraftwerk Klingenberg, has an output capacity of 300,000 kilowatts and is the power supply source of some of the city's largest industrial concerns.

"Sticks of heavy calibre bombs which burst on and around the station were followed by an outbreak of fire.

"The west power station two miles south of the Tegel See, which had already been heavily damaged in previous raids, was again attacked and a large fire started.

"Salvos of explosive bombs were dropped on the Schöneberg railway yard three miles southwest of the city centre and on a main railway station near the Charlottenburg district, one of the chief residential quarters of the city.

"In an attack on Berlin's main airport at Tempelhof a line of bombs was laid across the northern half of the airfield and nearby railway sidings were also bombed.

"Another raid which arrived over the eastern outskirts of the city six minutes before midnight cruised above the industrial district for 20 minutes searching for its target under heavy fire from ground batteries.

"After five parachute flares had been released over the target, a munitions factory at Tuderdorf, 15 miles east of Berlin was located and bombed and fire was seen to break out."

Announcing other blows against German power, the Air Ministry and Ministry of Home Security said in a communique: "Last (Wednesday) night, strong forces of our bombers attacked military objectives in Kiel and invasion bases in enemy-occupied territory."

Heaviest Attack On French Coast

A SOUTHEAST COAST TOWN, England (CP)—The heaviest explosions along the French coast since Royal Air Force raids were launched against German "invasion ports" along the Channel were heard here this morning from the direction of Calais and Cap Gris Nez.

Terrific detonations followed one after another almost without interruption for more than 45 minutes. The new bombardment followed an early morning raid of three hours.

Meanwhile, after brilliant early morning sunshine, the sky over the Straits of Dover became clouded. The sea remained fairly calm, although there was a slight swell in the mid-strait and a cold northeast wind.

The French coast was hidden by a haze after sunrise.

Watchers See Flashes of Bombs

Flashes from bursting bombs illuminated the French side of the English Channel early this morning as the Royal Air Force blasted at German "invasion bases" for three hours in the light of a pale moon.

The first attack had lasted until daylight. Observers watching from the English side of the Channel said many high explosive and incendiary bombs were dropped along the whole stretch of German-occupied territory from Boulogne to Dunkerque.

Flashes of German anti-aircraft fire and the beams of searchlights combined with bursting bombs to make the sky almost as bright as day, the watcher said. They declared the Kent coast trembled with the force of the explosions.

New Diplomatic Attempts By Hitler

BERLIN (AP)—Furious diplomatic and political activity appeared today to foreshadow swift and broad moves in Hitler's axis reply to Britain, whose bombers during the night held the capital under the longest air alarm yet recorded.

The impression grew that Spain was on the verge of indicating in some substantial measure her desire for closer relations with the axis, and a more intimate understanding with Japan—as a counter-weight to possible closer British-United States collaboration—seemed to be in the offing.

(Trustworthy advices received by the Associated Press in New York yesterday said a special German mission to Tokyo had been successful, and announcement of Japan's new role in the axis scheme of things—perhaps as an active ally—was expected soon. There was no confirmation in Berlin, however, that any new pact actually had been completed.)

Berlin's longest air raid alarm of the war kept the capital's 4,000,000 residents and those of surrounding areas in cellars five hours last night and early today as British bombers attacked for the fourth successive night.

Homegoers Forced Into Shelters

The alarm came before bedtime and caught many persons on the way home, forcing them to spend the night in strange shelters.

An official statement said bombing was confined to outlying districts, where a number of houses were reported destroyed or damaged.

London Homes Hit in Night Raids

LONDON (CP)—The Ministries of Air and Home Security issued the following communique today on last night's aerial activity:

"The offensive against this country was continued by the enemy, and bombs were dropped in many parts of England and Wales, though once again London, its suburbs and the surrounding districts bore the brunt of the attack.

"Fires were started in several parts of the London area, and except for prompt action of members of the fire-fighting and other A.R.P. services damage might have been considerable. Damage was also done by direct hits and blasts of high explosive bombs to houses and other buildings in many parts of the area.

"Casualties have been reported, some of which have proved fatal, but their number is not yet known.

"Elsewhere in southeast England, bombs were dropped in town and country alike, and though there has been some material damage, casualties have not been numerous, and so far as is known at present no one has been killed.

"Bombs also were dropped on several towns in the northwest. Several fires were started, but were quickly brought under control.

"In other parts of England and Wales bombs fell in several widely-separated areas, but resulting damage was slight and the number of casualties small.

"Later reports show that in yesterday's air battles a total of 26 enemy aircraft was destroyed, 22 by fighters and four by anti-aircraft fire."

Enemy Planes Cross Estuary

The Nazi raiders took a new path to the British capital for their 19th consecutive dusk-to-dawn assault, coming up the Thames Estuary instead of by way of "Hell's Corner"—the southeast coast.

The raiders, after passing the estuary, divided into two groups, one attacking the northwest section of the city; the other the southern area. Bombing was reported particularly heavy in the northwestern region.

The Press Association credited the intensity of the "flaming onion" barrage in northwestern London with keeping the raiders out of the centre of the city.

Workers' Houses And Church Destroyed

A church and working-class houses were destroyed in a south-east London district when incendiary bombs "fell like rain." A fireman was killed when a high explosive bomb fell into the ring of flames. A man and woman were burned to death in their home.

Nine people were killed in another London district when two houses were demolished by a direct hit. Two other houses were destroyed nearby with no casualties.

A mother of seven children was killed in southwest London while returning home from a cinema. Shops and cottages were damaged and two policemen slightly injured by shrapnel.

Two wings of a convent in the same district were destroyed by fire after a "Molotov bread-basket" was dropped.

Germans Claim Plane Plant Hit

BERLIN (AP)—The German high command's communique today said:

"The German air force continued its retaliatory raids yesterday on southern England. In the course of the day, an airplane works at Filton was severely damaged by numerous bomb hits.

"Severe bomb hits were scored on port and boat facilities at Plymouth, Portland and Southend. Warships anchored near Plymouth, as well as a military barracks near Dungeness, were effectively bombed.

"In several other cities of southeastern England, factories and storehouses were destroyed. "Nursing the night-raids centred chiefly on London, where supply establishments and dock and storage facilities on both sides of the Thames were bombed with heavy calibre.

"Numerous explosions were followed by extensive fires clearly observable despite bad weather.

"A small U-boat commanded by Lieut. Wohlfarth sank four steamers totalling 25,000 tons from a convoy, among them one tanker. Mining of English ports continued yesterday."

Ex-Minister Held

VICHY (AP)—Guy La Chambre, former air minister, who came back voluntarily from the United States to face charges in the "war blame" case, has been transferred to the nearby Bourasol house of detention.

Dakar

RADIO COMMENTATORS IN THIS country and in the United States made much of the Dakar "incident" last night. Most of them read into the withdrawal of Free French and British forces a severe blow to prestige; one suggested it would probably spell the end of General de Gaulle's leadership. The CBC news analyst described the venture and its outcome as a first-class blunder; he dug into history and found somewhat of a parallel in the Goeben "incident" of the first days of the Great War of 1914—the German cruiser which escaped the British fleet in the Mediterranean and sought refuge in Turkish waters—a substantial factor in bringing Turkey into the war on the side of the Central Powers.

There will be no disposition to minimize the disappointment which the obvious failure at Dakar will occasion among all friends of the British cause. It had been hoped that if General de Gaulle could establish a base on this important strategic coastline, other parts of Africa already in revolt against the decrees of the Vichy government could be consolidated into an anti-totalitarian bloc stretching from the Atlantic to the Indian Ocean. General de Gaulle had reason to believe that by appealing in person to his compatriots in this French Senegalese naval and air station they would renounce their allegiance to the Nazi-dominated ministry at home and fight on with him against the common enemy of free men. He evidently persuaded the British government that he could succeed and obtained what he no doubt thought would be sufficient support to overcome such resistance as might be encountered from special envoys who had arrived in Dakar recently in French war vessels—whose progress past Gibraltar, incidentally, was not challenged by the guns of "the Rock." But not only were his proposals unwelcome, his emissaries carrying them under the protection of a white flag were promptly fired on from shore defences. The battle thus was joined, of the result of which we are painfully aware.

General de Gaulle's explanation is that he had pledged that Frenchmen should not be asked to fight Frenchmen. And while the occupants of the shore establishments were apparently not moved by natural instincts, his point of view will have to be taken into consideration when more light has been shed on the whole affair, and particularly when the apostles of gloom tell us that "another Norway" has intervened to strengthen the totalitarian cause. Supposing, for instance, the British government had refused to co-operate with de Gaulle, it would then have been charged with lack of vision, of presuming to understand French mentality better than the man who, to date, has rallied important sections of France's colonial empire to his side. Needless to say, the seriousness of the failure to win Dakar over will be impressed on the official mind in London, especially because of the new threat to British shipping which now may be expected.

Preparing for Events

OUR NEIGHBOR IS ABOUT TO EMBARK on a military program the like of which has never even been proposed, let alone achieved, in peacetime. Hundreds of thousands of young Americans will soon be breaking the ties of home and ordinary life to begin to learn how to defend their country. While this is the first time the United States has conscripted its men when not at war, there is nothing basically new about the step which Congress has authorized—except, of course, in its details and its technique. The principle is old; it is simply that every able-bodied citizen is now reminded that he has a definite obligation to defend his country. Well may our friends across the border be telling themselves that this fundamental principle always has been recognized and acted on with vigor. In the frontier days, to which orators wistfully refer, it was so. When some isolated post on the edge of the western woods heard rumors of an Indian rising, what happened? Every able-bodied man got his gun and began to drill and organize defence of the stockade. True, they were not conscripted except as the powerful public opinion of their fellows conscripted them. But the danger was real and imminent, and every able-bodied man automatically looked to his powder-horn and squirrel rifle. In former days the Minute Men were organized. Above every man's fireplace there hung the long-barreled rifle. He was sworn to take it down at a minute's notice and assemble with his neighbors to defend their homes. But this is 1940. The 22 target rifle or the sporting shotgun a modern Minute Man might snatch from his closet is no longer a match for bombers and armored divisions that perform like clockwork. Today's Minute Man must train, long and thoroughly, before he is anything like a match for any probable opponent.

These new conditions demand new tactics. Yet the men in the neighboring republic—as in Canada—who are now going out to learn to defend their country are today's Minute Men. The manner of organizing them and training them is one made necessary by an international scene which is changing with the hours as the latest "incident" in French Indo-China so convincingly shows. But the following points are seen clearly through American eyes:

1. Germany has conquered practically all of Europe and now strikes at the heart of the British Empire.
 2. Japan, after three years of undeclared war and conquest in China, now is springing southward today through Indo-China. The whole balance of the Far East has been upset, with what upshot no man yet knows.
 3. Russia, having engulfed three countries and large parts of two others, may be considering the prospect of still greater spoils.
 4. Italy now makes its bid for widespread conquest in Africa, and at a Mediterranean dominance that would, if successful, change the whole of southern Europe and the Near East.
 5. Mexico may be plunged once more into civil disorder.
 6. The Western Hemisphere is rallying itself to united defence; but it is clear that any United States weakness will undermine close and friendly relationships that are vital to security.
- In the face of the foregoing prospects, our neighbor's military program cannot be construed as a threat against any particular country or people, but it will be recognized as a course dictated by ordinary prudence which no nation worth its salt would fail to heed. The United States, incidentally, sees the totalitarian tongue in the totalitarian cheek every time the axis partners loudly proclaim they have no designs on the Western Hemisphere.

The Robert's Capture

HATS OFF TO H.M.C.S. PRINCE Robert, Commander C. T. Beard, once a luxury liner operated by the Canadian National Steamships and now an auxiliary cruiser—to use her captain's own words—"patrolling the ocean and denying it to enemy raiders." News reached Ottawa today that this fine craft has collected her first prize by seizing the Weser, an express cargo ship flying the Nazi flag, off the coast of Mexico. Victorians naturally are immensely thrilled by this news. It takes our minds back to the days of the Rainbow's exploit in southern waters—her capture of the Leonor and Oregon and the legal battle which furnished an interesting sequel. Not only are Victorians elated over this new triumph for Canada's naval service because it means one more enemy merchantman for service in the mercantile marine; they will experience a special feeling of pride because many of them trod the decks of the Robert and enjoyed the magnificence of her appointments in the piping days of peace, but more particularly because she is commanded by a man whose friends in this community—in the service and out of it—are legion.

Schedule Badly Delayed

SOME MONTHS AGO THERE WERE frequent stories that German firms were taking orders in South America and promising September and October delivery under a penalty for nonperformance. The thought, of course, was to convince countries on the south of us that Germany had the war so firmly in hand that she could even call the date for its end. It was an impressive move. Now the September-October period is well under way, but there can be no substantial deliveries. The period has come. "Aye, Caesar, but not gone"—there still remains a chance to make good. But the chance is decreasing as each day slips by. Meanwhile, Britain strains every nerve to keep trade with South America active and strong. And Canadian and United States trade is gaining. During the first year of the war, Hitler made good on every promise—kept every schedule. Doubt for the first time now must be crossing many Latin minds.

TOO MUCH PAPER

Apparently there are still plenty of officials in England who think that the war will be won by tying up bundles of paper in red tape and filling them away. On a shipment of lumber, for instance, to England there must be invoices, certificates of origin, and details of specifications. For each of these, nine copies must be supplied. Other documents are also required, but two or three copies suffice. Lumber shipments are divided into quantities of so many British "standards." In effect, separate documents have to be prepared for approximately each 50,000 board feet. If a ship goes out with, say, 2,000,000 board feet of lumber the shippers will have to supply a minimum of 1,080 documents. Actually one shipment the other day called for 2,000 documents.

One set has to be sent by airmail. Postage on one such sheaf of documents costs up to $30. No one knows what happens to all the documents. But one wonders if it does not cost almost as much to bill the British timber control for lumber as it costs to cut it in the woods.

Parallel Thoughts

For in much wisdom is much grief; and he that increaseth knowledge increaseth sorrow.—Ecclesiastes 1:18. In seeking wisdom thou art wise; in imagining that thou hast attained it thou art a fool.—Rabbi Ben-Azai.

TRAIL, B.C.

PORTRAIT GALLERY HISTORY

ALL THE NEW development at Trail has taken place within a single lifetime. Men like Pete Levesque can remember when Trail was a small suburb of bustling Rossland. Ron Burns says that when he came 11 years ago most of the houses of Trail needed paint, and the town had a run-down look. Now Mr. Burns, Trail's genial member of the Legislature, surveys his bailiwick with swelling pride—the rushing business section, the residential streets mounting ever higher up the hills, the fine city park and public gardens ablaze with autumn flowers. The old-timers are finding a city suddenly growing up around them.

The history of this country is written in Mr. Levesque's unique gallery of portraits, ranged about the lobby of his hotel. Everybody who has been anybody in British Columbia is there, every politician from all sides, for Mr. Levesque disregards party in his collecting—Bob Green in his youth, the young John Oliver, Charlie Wilson, Fred Fulton, Bill Bowser and on up to Duff Pattullo and Pat Maitland.

It makes you a little sad, looking at these worthies, to realize how most of their battles, triumphs, tolls, have been forgotten so that most British Columbians do not recognize the portraits on Mr. Levesque's walls. But Mr. Levesque, friendly French-Canadian, knows each of them, knows what each has done in his time and when he has died. Nearly all of them have stayed in this hotel at one time or another.

The people of Trail all work steadily. They are not rich people, but they have enough money to buy their homes and occasionally to take a trip. They want to come down to the coast and spend their money with us. Up to recent times they came down through the United States by paved highways, but now they travel through British Columbia.

WANT A NEW ROAD

IT TAKES A HARDY SOUL to drive from Trail over to Grand Forks on one of the worst roads in the world. Some 30,000 people in the southern interior depend on this road for access to the coast. Ron Burns, Trail's M.P.P., says, and he is urging the provincial government to improve it and to keep it open by snow-ploughing through the winter. It forms a much more practicable and more important route than the Monashee Pass, which is favored by the people around Kamloops, in Mr. Burns' opinion, and this area is behind him in his representations to the government.

It is essential, if people are to drive to the coast from the whole southern interior, that the road be graveled for summer travel. At present much of the surface has been worn away and you drive for miles over boulders. In the winter the snow will make it smooth, if it is ploughed.

Apart from these two high summits, there is nothing to alarm the coast driver, but the whole flow of traffic east and west is going to be impeded, and reduced to a trickle, if a few miles of unbelievably rough surface are not improved by next summer. The editors of the able daily newspaper here, the Trail Times, conduct a vigorous campaign for tourists but this short stretch of road is a grave obstacle.

At night the valley of Trail presents one of the spectacular sights of Canada. Stand on the hill above the city and you can imagine you are looking at Budapest beside the Danube. The lights of the smelter mount up, tier on tier, and the lights of Trail are sowed broadcast over the hills, dancing in the broad swell of the Columbia, a fairy scene. Faintly you can hear the rumble of the great metal plant and guess the strange processes that extract the last ounce of value out of our native rocks, the blazing cauldrons, the baths of acid, the torrents of molten metal. They make the smelter the best imitation of hell yet devised, but a benign hell where men work cheerfully, where all kinds of useful products are made, where the materials of victory are being forged, where wealth is poured out for the benefit of this whole country.

Trail they called this place because it was on the original pack horse trail of Dewdney, built only one lifetime back. A spectacle to cheer any British Columbian and give him a new picture of the cities, industries, homes yet to be.

LE BON DOCTEUR

(Written with apologies to Dr. Drummond, after hearing the CBC interview between Dr. G. D. Stanley and R. J. Needham on "Horse and Buggy Doctor.")
Le bon Docteur Stanlee of Haute Riviere, Sapre tonnerre! he was work long tam! De horse an' buggy he drove, by gar! An' now he drive de sixty-horse car. But day after day he work all de sam'.

Let her rain or snow, in de long ago, Wen habitant sick-he tak' de trail. If de road she's bad, if de road she's good If de ford she's cover by Highwood flood, If de snowdrift is pile by de winter gale.

It's de sam' always. Lik' dat today, Doin' good's de only 'ting on his min'; An' if you pass hees place 'bout ten year more You will see heem go 'round lak' he go before But de horse an' buggy she's hard to fin'.

THE ACHIEVEMENT OF PEACE
When we have studied phenomena we may obtain knowledge; when we have attained knowledge we may acquire goodwill; when we have acquired goodwill, the heart is chastened; when the heart is chastened, man is cultured; when man is cultured, order reigns in his family; when order reigns in his family, it reigns also in his country; and when order reigns in every country, peace reigns in the world.—Great Teaching of Tsend-Tsan, a disciple of Confucius.

Elmore Philpott

GERMANY TOMORROW

UNDER THIS TITLE Otto Strasser has written a book (Cape, London), which deserves close attention. Strasser is the man who, from his place of exile, has organized the most active visible opposition to the Nazis. His ideas, therefore, are extremely important, for there is nothing more obvious than that we cannot win the war merely by getting rid of Hitler.

The world will profit nothing if Hitler is put to chopping wood like the Kaiser, or to shovelling coal some place else, unless conditions are so changed in Germany that there is no possibility of World War III following World War II.

Strasser declares that he is "a Conservative as well as a Revolutionary." He states, further, that "Prussian militarism must be overcome in a spiritual field by a new ideal of life, and in the practical field by a new military organization." He apparently favors some sort of system vaguely described as Socialism, but in which he lauds the idea of possession rather than ownership in the accepted sense.

In this respect I cannot see where Strasser has progressed at all since the day when he was an out-and-out Nazi. Indeed, I doubt that the world would gain anything in the long run by the mere substitution of Strasser for Hitler, if we take at face value the following statement:

"Away with pseudo-democratic principle of equality and in its place let us set up the genuinely popular state of German democracy and aristocratic responsibility."

Strasser professes to reject totalitarianism of all sorts, then goes on to argue for what he calls autarchy in domestic economics, state monopoly of foreign trade, and all the other familiar Nazi dogma.

I think the real clue to what Strasser is trying to do comes in the tail-end of his proposal. He suggests "close political and economic co-operation throughout the continent," and "joint defence against the Bolshevik peril." We have heard all that sort of thing before. Indeed, Strasser seems to be talking now as all the Nazis, including Hitler, were talking up to the time of the German-Russian nonaggression pact.

STRANGE DEMOCRATS

SOME OF THE PEOPLE whom we have enlisted to fight for us in this war to preserve the democracies have peculiar qualifications for that task. I notice among others Von Starheimberg the notorious bully-boy of the days when Mussolini was backing his own particular brand of Austrian Fascism in direct opposition to the Nazi variety. When Hitler came in, Starheimberg went out in a hurry. I cannot imagine that any brand of democracy which he might be willing to set up in Austria would be much more genuine than that which existed in the days of Dollfuss—a bloody little vest-pocket dictator who was himself murdered, but who had himself given the order to murder thousands of fine Austrian citizens whose only crime was that they were Socialists.

The Churchill government seems to me to be on the horns of a dilemma in regard to its general political policy in continental Europe. It cannot even begin to take effective political measures to stir up trouble for the Nazis unless it foments out and out revolutionary movements in France, Germany and Italy. But on the other hand, it cannot to moment such movements without losing the support of most of the ruling class in Britain which includes the majority of the members of the British Parliament.

This difficulty is going to become much more apparent in the next few months. If Britain has to depend on allies like Strasser and Starheimberg the democratic world will not get very far.

Fortunately, there are in Britain leaders in all parties who see these facts clearly and who know what we have to do about them.

CHURCHILL'S ORATORY
J. V. McAree in Toronto Globe
We remarked to a friend that every speech of Churchill's is as good as a minor victory. He replied, somewhat wryly: "Yes, and they are about the only minor victories we are getting." What he said is true. Every time he speaks resistance almost visibly stiffens. He thrills everybody who loves the English language and while he is fond enough of purple passages he speaks the kind of English that everybody understands and to which everybody must respond. Churchill is indeed a man of so many talents that his mastery of English was taken more or less for granted until he wrote his monumental biography of Sir John Churchill, his ancestor. Then critics marvelled. Here was not merely a historian, but a literary craftsman, an established master. In the past he has made many magnificent speeches in the House of Commons, but either because he was not himself then so important, or because he was speaking on highly controversial matters, his true stature was missed.

HYMN GAVE THEM HINT

From Windsor Star
The air raids on England remind people of the message sent by Vice-Admiral Sir Barry Domville in the last war. He is the sailor whose activities in connection with German groups got him into trouble in this war. Noting Zeppelins on the way to London, and not wishing to let the Germans know they had been observed, Sir Barry sent a message by wireless telling officials to look up a certain hymn.

"They looked it up to read: 'O happy band of pilgrims, Look upward to the skies.'"

Saanich Fair Attracts Crowds

Produce of Fine Farms Much Admired

The finest produce from the soil of Saanich farms, the bluest blood from its barns, the most delicious preserves from its farmhouse kitchens—all were on display to thousands of persons from Victoria and vicinity at the 72nd annual exhibition of the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society at Saanichton Agricultural Hall yesterday.

Livestock entries were disappointing, as far as quantity went. There was little competition, although the quality was up to its usual high standard. Many Saanich farmers said they were too busy to prepare their stock for showing. They said they were unable to secure farm hands because of the war. However, all Saanich farmers co-operated to make the show a success.

Reeve A. G. Lambrick, introduced by G. T. Michell, formally declared the show open. He congratulated the entrants and wished them every success, exhorting them to every effort to make the land definitely aid the war effort of Canada.

CHILDREN ATTEND

It was a half-holiday for Saanich schools and hundreds of students and their teachers attended, the youngsters partaking of school sports and enjoying "all the fun of the fair," with ice cream, pop and lots of candy.

A special feature of this year's show was the class for saddle horses. Mrs. D. B. Carley, the judge, complimented the riders and their mounts. W. D. Michell, with Miss Goldstream and Violet and Agnes Westinghouse won top honors in this class, other winners being G. J. Timms, Miss Butterfield and Miss P. Garrard.

Arthur Lock took first place in classes for swine, others winning honors being Willard Michell, W. D. Michell, R. Derrinberg, Stan Polson, Frank Butler (who exhibited a 900-pound boar) and Albert Doney.

C. E. Whitney-Griffiths won championships for ewe and ram in the sheep classes, others winning ribbons being Arthur Lock, E. J. T. Woodward, R. B. Rodgers and R. Derrinberg.

Arthur Adams, Lake Hill, and R. S. Anderson, Saanichton, won championship ribbons for best male and female birds, respectively, in the show.

CATTLE CLASSES

Mrs. Ian Douglas made a clean sweep in the Jersey cattle classes, winning the City of Victoria cup, the Bank of Commerce cup, for her champion bull, Signalman's Success, and the Hon. J. W. Fordham Johnson Cup. Reg. Thompson, with his grand champion cow, won the Hon. E. W. Hamber Cup. The Mrs. A. J. B. Dewdney Cup, for the best heifer exhibited by boy or girl, was won by George Doney. Winners in the juniors' cattle classes were Donald Goodwin, George Doney, Jack Doney, Isabel Raper, Eddie Raper and George Robbins.

Ralph Reade won highest honors in the Holstein class, with Mrs. A. E. Ticker, Brentwood Bay, also showing.

Jim Turner won firsts in the horses' sections, others in the

Mrs. Charles Spink won the special cup for most points in the flower section. The B.C. Electric special prize, for most points in the jams and bottled fruits section, went to Mrs. A. R. Anderson, Royal Oak. Mrs. R. E. Nimmo and Mrs. W. Heal were first and second in the Blue Ribbon Tea biscuit competition and Mrs. L. H. MacQueen won the special Brackman-Ker prize for most points in the household arts section.

Among the most interesting of the exhibits was the woolen cushion made 60 years ago and shown at the Saanich Fair then by Miss Robertson, 2220 Cook Street, who also showed it this year.

J. A. Nunn, Sidney, won first prize for his pumpkin weighing nearly 70 pounds. Two California banana marrows, rare on Vancouver Island, were shown by G. Payne, Sidney.

Among the visitors to the Fair were Hon. K. C. Macdonald, Minister of Agriculture; J. B. Munro, deputy minister; Dr. W. B. Gunn, provincial livestock commissioner who judged sheep and swine; Jack Savage of Ladner, the cattle judge; Dr. Coleman, formerly of the U.B.C. faculty, now living in retirement at Deep Cove; G. Why the Red Cross is in urgent need of funds

Here are a few tasks the Canadian Red Cross must tackle at once:

1 At the request of the British Red Cross, it has undertaken to provide 10,000 parcels of food each week from Canada for British prisoners of war in Germany. Canadians can thus help to lessen the strain on Britain's food supplies.

2 The Canadian Red Cross will provide, equip and co-operate with the Department of National Defence in maintaining a number of convalescent hospitals in various parts of Canada for use by Canadian soldiers, here and from overseas, who are sick or wounded.

3 The Canadian Red Cross will help to supply clothing and other necessities to the more than 100,000 evacuee children in Britain, and the 100,000 refugees from invaded countries who have sought shelter under the Union Jack. Many articles of relief clothing have been supplied, but another half million articles will be needed from Canadian Red Cross workrooms.

4 The Canadian Red Cross is sending an increasing flow of supplies for the alleviation of civilian suffering caused by enemy bombing of Britain.

5 As Canada's own armed forces grow, on land, on sea and in the air, the need for Red Cross services increases.

6 The Red Cross must be ready and fully equipped to meet any emergency at the moment it arises.

These are tasks you must not leave undone. Support the Red Cross with all your heart.

OSLO, Norway (via Berlin) (AP)—Sugar rations for Norway are to be reduced from 250 to 200 grams (8.8 to 7 ounces) a week, and bread and flour also will be reduced. The order, also rationing soap, will become effective September 30.

DR. ANTLE TELLS OF 404-DAY TRIP

On a voyage fraught with the dangers of a north Atlantic gale in the Bay of Biscay, German U-boats off the Madeira Islands, a tropical hurricane in the Caribbean Sea, and near starvation off the Mexican coast, the Rev. John Antle sailed his auxiliary yawl Reverie across the Atlantic, through the Panama Canal, on a 404-day cruise from Falmouth, England, to Victoria.

Talking to an audience of 500 at the Memorial Hall last night, the retired superintendent of the Columbia Coast Mission gave a graphic account of his voyage, and the circumstances which led to his making it.

The speaker told of how, when he retired from missionary work almost five years ago, he bought a house and property at Maple Bay, intending to spend the rest of his days there. An inactive life, however, did not appeal to him, and after 18 months of leisure, he was fortunate in being able to trade his property for the small ship in which he made his ocean crossing. The Reverie, at the time, was in England, and Dr. Antle wasted no time in getting there to claim his newly-acquired possession.

Reverie sailed out of Falmouth on August 11, 1933. In a gale in the notoriously rough Bay of Biscay she proved herself to be a real seaboat. "Not once, during the whole trip," said Dr. Antle, "did a full green wave ever break onto her decks."

The speaker spent many weeks touring the West Indies.

While on the tour, he said they were caught in a tropical storm, and were forced to heave to, and ride it out for three days and nights.

From the Indies it was a short four-day run to the Panama Canal, where, under the surveillance of two armed guards, who came aboard at the canal entrance, they made the short trip to the Pacific Ocean.

Here, they struck bad luck. Adverse winds and dead calms made a 113-day voyage to San Diego a grim reality. This was the most fearful part of the trip. Off the forbidding Mexican coast, with a shortage of food, water, and fuel oil, conditions looked bad, but a chance meeting with a section of a California tuna fleet saved them from near starvation.

Dr. Antle ended his talk by remarking that with his boat, and three meals a day, he is a happy man, and could wish for nothing more.

Bishop H. E. Sexton took the chair at the gathering, held under the auspices of the St. John's Church Woman's Auxiliary, and introduced the speaker as the founder of the Columbia Coast Mission.

Labor Studies Defence Rules

By HERBERT L. JONES

VANCOUVER (CP)—With adjournment just two days off, the 56th annual convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada today ploughed through a long list of important resolutions.

Included among resolutions dealing with the Defence of Canada Regulations was one from the Port Arthur Trades and Labor Council, asking an amendment to the regulations "whereby our basic democratic rights of free speech and assembly and trial by jury are protected."

The resolution also demanded of the Department of Justice that "prominent trade union officials, arrested and interned without trial or charge under the Defence of Canada Regulations, be brought to trial and given the right of defence counsel."

Copies of a lengthy report on the case of J. A. Sullivan, national president of the Canadian Seamen's Union, distributed at yesterday's session informed the delegates of Sullivan's arrest and internment on June 18 under the Defence of Canada Regulations, and also of the internment of J. Chapman, national secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Seamen's Union, and D. Sinclair, editor of the union's paper. The report was signed by J. L. Cohen, Sullivan's counsel.

Addresses were heard by Claude P. O'Reilly, fraternal delegate of the American Federation of Labor, condemning Communism, and Adolf Staal, representative of the International Labor Office of Geneva, now established at McGill University, Montreal.

Delegates broke routine business yesterday afternoon and went on a sightseeing tour of the city and North Shore, arranged by the local entertainment committee.

Doukhobor Land Appeal Concluded

Argument was completed in Court of Appeal yesterday in the appeal of the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood and the Board of Review of British Columbia established under the Farrers' Creditors Act of 1934 against the Supreme Court judgment of Mr. Justice Robertson, last December, in favor of the National Trust Company Ltd. In relation to Doukhobor lands, Mr. Justice Robertson's judgment would have permitted foreclosure. The Court of Appeal reserved judgment.

J. N. Hossie, K.C., for the respondent, opened his reply shortly before the luncheon adjournment, following argument by G. L. McAlpine, K.C., for the appellant.

Main grounds for appeal rest on arguments the action was premature and that the trial judge erred in declaring the appellant not farmers within the meaning of the act.

Jurisdiction of a Supreme Court justice to make such a finding was questioned by Mr. McAlpine on the grounds such decisions lay within the scope of the County Court.

Mr. Hossie contended that while the jurisdiction might fall within the field of the County Court, the Supreme Court still had concurrent jurisdiction.

The hearing is a continuation of an appeal started in Vancouver,

KISS YOUR TIRED FEELING GOODBYE!

Poplax—Many Suffer Low Blood Count—And Don't Know It.

The baffling thing about low blood count is that you can weigh about as much as you ever did—even look healthy and strong, yet—yet you feel as if you had lead in your legs, dizzy, tired and peevish.

Low blood count means you haven't got enough red blood corpuscles. It is the vital job to carry life-giving oxygen from your lungs throughout your body. And just as it takes oxygen to explode gasoline in your car and make the power to turn the wheels, so you must have plenty of oxygen to explode the energy in your body and give you going power.

Get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today. They are world-famous for the help they give in increasing the number and strength of red corpuscles. Then with your blood count up, you'll feel like bounding up the stairs as if you were floating on air. Ask your druggist for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today.

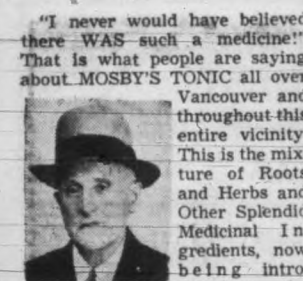

Getting Up Nights Makes Many Feel Old Before Their Time

Do you feel older than you are or suffer from Getting Up Nights, Backache, Nervousness, Leg Pains, Rheumatic Pains, Burbling, or frequent passages? If so, remember that your kidneys are vital to your health and that these symptoms may be due to kidney and bladder troubles—in such cases Cystex usually gives prompt and joyful relief by helping the kidneys clear out poisonous excess acids and wastes. You have everything to gain and nothing to lose in trying Cystex. A printed agreement wrapped around each package assures a refund of your money on return of empty package unless fully satisfied. Don't delay. Get Cystex (size-test) from drug stores today. Only 35¢. Money back agreement protects you.

Indigestion Gone Feels Fine Again

"Mosby's Tonic Is Splendid," Says Well-known Vancouver Man—Suffered With Sharp Pains Due to Gas—Felt So Worn Out Could Hardly Work—Now Relates How Mosby's Tonic Gave Splendid Relief

MR. R. JONES
In this city at the Cunningham Drug Store. Some of the best-known residents of Victoria and this whole section are coming forward daily with sincere statements, publicly endorsing this New, Scientific Compound.

Describes Relief From Indigestion Pains

Among the many people who praise Mosby's Tonic, none is more enthusiastic than Mr. R. Jones, of 335 Georgia St., East, Vancouver. Mr. Jones is a well-known local citizen. Read what he has to say about this Splendid Medicine. His statement follows: "I got such splendid relief from Mosby's Tonic that I gladly give my statement, endorsing this medicine, and I hope what I say here will help many others," said Mr. Jones. "For a long time I suffered with violent spells of indigestion and felt so weak and exhausted all the time that I could hardly do my work. It just seemed like I had no energy at all. "I read so much about Mosby's Tonic and so many people had recommended it that finally I made up my mind to try it. Will say that I could see results from the VERY FIRST. So I kept on with it and now I feel like a DIFFERENT PERSON. It relieved those sharp indigestion pains, and now I feel fine. I have more energy now than I had in a long time. This medicine is ALL THEY CLAIM. I gladly give my statement endorsing it to others."

Acts on Bowels, Stomach, Liver and Kidneys

MOSBY'S TONIC accomplishes several things within the human body at the same time. That is because it contains 20 ingredients, including 15 Roots and Herbs. It cleanses the bowels and clears gas and bloating from the stomach. It cleanses the liver, cleans old bile from the system and relieves biliousness and sick headache. It invigorates the kidney action, thus stopping backache. Weak, worn out people soon feel like different men and women. MOSBY'S TONIC is sold in Victoria at THE CUNNINGHAM DRUG STORE, Fort and Douglas Sts., and also sold by all Leading Druggists throughout Victoria and Vancouver Island.

KIPLING SOCIETY

A letter from Sir Christopher Robinson, honorary secretary of the Central Society, London, England, was read at the opening meeting of the Victoria Kipling Society in the Union Building Tuesday. The letter expressed grateful thanks for the knitted articles sent from the ladies of the society to the men of H.M.S. Kipling. With the opening of the fall meetings the knitting circle is resuming work, and wool for knitting was distributed among the members.

Mrs. J. W. Church read the appropriate poems "The Song of the Cities" and "England's Answer."

The president, A. E. G. Cornwell, gave a resume of Kipling's South African story, "The Captive."

A message of thanks was also read from Sir Robert Holland for the good wishes extended him by the society on his recent departure for India.

Langford

The monthly meeting of the Langford Women's Institute was held Tuesday afternoon. Miss L. M. A. Savory presided. Mrs. R. J. Smith reported on the flower show. The institute will sponsor the annual Halloween party and picture show October 31. Miss Savory was appointed official delegate and Mrs. R. J. Smith and Mrs. V. Franklin institute delegates to the Women's Institute conference in Victoria in October. A shower of bottled fruit and jam for the Queen Alexandra Solarium inmates will be held at the October meeting. Highlights of the recent provincial conference held in Robin Wood provided entertainment with piano solos during the ceremony.

Blind Gardeners Will Show Flowers

Blind gardeners of Greater Victoria—and there are many of them—will have a special corner of the Crystal Garden north ballroom on Saturday for their exhibition of sun flowers, which will be one of the features of the Victoria Horticultural Society's annual chrysanthemum show.

Persons with poor sight have been encouraged in their gardening pursuits by the society in recent years with favorable results. Blind gardeners have grown many fine flowers and vegetables, and prizes for various classes has kept up their interest.

Saturday's show is expected to be exceptionally fine, with many gorgeous chrysanthemums now being brought along in scores of local gardens.

Judges will be such well-known flower experts as S. W. Raven, John Naysmith, who won first place in the recent Victoria fair for his Victoria district exhibit, and Miss B. M. Palmer of Cobble Hill.

Vancouver were given by Mrs. H. Langrish, Luxton. The first card party for the season will be held October 16.

The monthly meeting of Prince Edward Branch No. 19, Canadian Legion, will be held in the Island Highway Hall October 1.

PERCY E. GEORGE HEADS TEACHERS

Officers of British Columbia School Trustees' Association for 1940-41 elected yesterday at the closing session of the annual convention in Nelson were:

Honorary president, Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education; president, Percy E. George, Victoria; first vice-president, David B. Brankin, Surrey; second vice-president, B. A. Edwards, Kamloops; secretary-treasurer,

PERCY E. GEORGE

George A. Grant, Vancouver; executive members, H. Barsby, Nanaimo; David Chapman, Kelowna; Leslie Craufurd, Nelson; and Mrs. J. P. Leeming, Duncan. The trustees asked the provincial government to:

Grant power to school boards to transfer teachers from one post to another;

Make grants toward school stenographers' salaries; change the system of election of trustees in united rural school districts.

It refused to endorse a resolution which suggested encouragement of correspondence studies for rural students in place of sending them to high schools in nearby districts; and it tabled for a year a resolution proposing to restrict teachers holding interim academic certificates to elementary, junior high or superior schools, barring them from high school appointments.

A sequel to the approval of a proposal to include Bible readings in the school curriculum was the invitation of Dr. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education, for the association to appoint a representative to the special committee on Bible reading in the schools. H. N. McCordingle, superintendent of Vancouver schools, and Hector Charlesworth, secretary-treasurer of the British Columbia Teachers' Federation, comprise the committee.

London Frankly Faces De Gaulle 'Blunder' At Dakar

LONDON (AP)—Britain was disappointed today over abandonment of the attempt to seize Dakar, key port of French West Africa, after a three-day battle in which the Admiralty disclosed British warships had suffered damage and casualties.

A big row is expected in the House of Commons over the incident, which is being referred to as the most serious British blunder since Norway. Today General de Gaulle, in whom the British put their trust, stands somewhat discredited. There are open demands that a new leader of the "Free French" be chosen.

It is admitted that the withdrawal means a setback in British prestige in Africa particularly. London leaders are willing to face that fact openly. They demand that those responsible shoulder the blame.

It is felt that the incident also brings the war closer to the Americas, as Dakar would be the chief jumping-off place for South America in any Axis attempt on that continent.

GIVING NAZIS 'ANOTHER'

The London News Chronicle sounded a note of censure, striking out with a bold headline "De Gaulle's Expedition to Dakar Fails" and printing an article by Vernon Bartlett, Independent member of Parliament, storming against "delay and hesitation" and declaring "it has been decided" that Germany "must be allowed another success."

Commenting on the Dakar expedition, The London Times said: "It is important to appreciate that Gen. de Gaulle went to Dakar as a Frenchman appealing in friendship to other Frenchmen to join him in continuing the battle for the freedom of France.

"He had no idea of coercing his fellow countrymen, and when it became apparent that the consuls of Vichy at Dakar were in a position to postpone sanction with his friends ashore—though their moral position was so weak that they are stated to have fired on a flag of truce instead of permitting a parley—he drew off his troops rather than precipitate a battle."

(The Vichy government was bitter in denunciation of both the British and De Gaulle.

256 FRANCHIE (It said six British landing attempts had failed and the violent attacks had killed at least 250 Frenchmen and wounded 588.)

The British acknowledged that the Dakar shore batteries scored hits on British ships, said that the port suffered bombardment, and that two French Senegal submarines were sunk.

Casualties were acknowledged on both sides.

Even the newest of French battleships, the Richelieu, which the British had reported they put out of action in a special expedition to Dakar last July 8, joined in the fray.

Aground, it still used its guns, and the British ships poured shells into the stranded Leviathan.

(The Vichy government said three big British warships were badly damaged while the British naval guns and aerial bombs wrought great havoc in Dakar and inflicted heavy casualties.

De Gaulle Fiasco 'Discredits' Him

NEW YORK (CP)—The New York Times said today "from first to last" the attempt of General Charles de Gaulle's Free French force, aided by British warships, to take the west African port of Dakar, "appears to have been a major blunder."

"It would be folly for the British, or for their friends, to minimize the probable effects of this defeat," said the Times editorially. "The authority of General de Gaulle as the spokesman of Free France has been discredited. The effort to detach the French colonies has suffered a setback, and may have to be resumed in other ways, perhaps with other leaders."

"The prestige of Great Britain throughout Africa is bound to suffer for this fiasco, and the boldness of the Axis will be correspondingly increased. . . . For the British people, who have endured such trials with such matchless courage, Dakar will bring a new disappointment."

was put in the way of the vessels in question passing through the Straits of Gibraltar. When, having done so, they pursued a southerly course, they were permitted to proceed. They therefore reached Dakar without interference.

FORCED TO PUT ABOUT

"When, later, they put to sea again, steaming south, it was thought that they might be intending to interfere with the situation existing in French equatorial Africa, which had already declared for General de Gaulle."

"Ships of the Royal Navy intercepted their passage and insisted upon their reversing their course, which they eventually did, two of them returning to Dakar and a third, which was suffering from engine trouble, being escorted by one of His Majesty's ships towards Casablanca."

"On the morning of September 23, emissaries of Gen. de Gaulle, flying the tri-color and a white flag in order to show their French nationality and their peaceful intentions, attempted to land at Dakar and were met with a hostile reception, were fired upon and seriously wounded."

PORT OPENS FIRE

"Batteries of the port opened fire on one of Gen. de Gaulle's warships and subsequently on His Majesty's ships, which were standing by in order to render Gen. de Gaulle support and assistance if needed."

"Before returning the French fire, the admiral commanding made the following signal in plain language:

"Will be compelled to return fire unless fire ceases."

"As the fire of the shore batteries did not cease, the fire was returned, and both His Majesty's ships and the shore batteries scored hits and incurred casualties."

"Fire from the French battleship Richelieu was joined to that of the shore batteries, and consequently her fire had to be returned."

"The British naval commander warned French authorities that submarines would be engaged if they left the harbor. In spite of this warning, three submarines made attacks on our ships and active measures had to be taken against them, with the result that two were sunk, but the entire crew of one were fortunately saved and will be repatriated at the first opportunity.

"The forces of Gen. de Gaulle attempted to make a landing which was not successful, and when it became plain that only a major operation of war could secure the fall of Dakar, it was decided to discontinue hostilities, as it has never been the intention of His Majesty's government to enter into serious warlike operations against those Frenchmen who felt it their duty to obey the commands of the Vichy government."

"Gen. de Gaulle himself was most anxious that he should not be the cause of bloodshed to his fellow countrymen."

"The forces concerned are therefore being withdrawn from the region of Dakar."

The true merits of a good shoe polish cannot be measured alone by the shine it gives. It must protect the leather, keep it soft and supple, preserve its life. This is why KIWI is rated the finest polish of all, because its super-waxes and fine solvents sink deep into the pores, nourishing the leather as well as giving it a "high lustre" shine.

Rainbow Tea Nets $75 for Red Cross

The Red Cross acquired a "pot of gold" amounting to $75 at the end of the highly successful and delightfully arranged Rainbow Tea held at the home of Mrs. Harold Elworthy, St. Charles Street, yesterday afternoon, the affair being arranged by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the United Commercial Travelers. Mrs. J. C. Dowds, the president, assisted Mrs. Elworthy in receiving the guests. Mrs. A. E. James was general convener.

The rainbow theme found reflection in the floral decorations in the drawing-room and in the dining-room, where tea was served under the direction of Mesdames Frank Wilfert, Mess. W. Martin and Pitzer. A French hand-worked cloth covered the tea table, and mauve and rose dahlias in a cut-glass bowl on a mirror-reflecter centred the table. Mauve tapers glowed at either end. On the buffet were candles in rainbow shades. Mrs. E. G. Rowebottom, Mrs. W. Weisier, Mrs. R. Murdoch and Mrs. F. Winterbottom poured the tea and coffee, and hostesses in the dining-room were Mrs. W. L. Woodhouse and Mrs. H. Goulbourn, who were assisted with the serving by Mesdames J. V. Johnson, D. R. Hurdle, William Bayliss, Stanley Moore, P. Partridge, Neely, L. Butler and Archie Gibbs.

Mrs. J. O. Cameron won the prize from the rainbow with the pot of gold at which Mrs. William Hayward presided, but generously gave it back to be disposed of again in aid of the Red Cross.

In the billiard room a table of home cooking was in charge of Mrs. J. Bernstein, Mrs. Leonard Hobbs and Mrs. F. Norton. Peeps into the future, arranged by Mrs. McDermott, were a popular diversion, and an ice cream cake donated by Mrs. F. Norton helped with the proceeds of the afternoon.

A musical program arranged by Mrs. D. Berman included songs by Mrs. Stanley Moore; violin selections by Joy Berman, accompanied by Miss Helen Ockenden; Joan Gonnason, piano solos, and recitations by Ilace Roskelley.

Jubilee W.A. Plans Big Bridge Party

Plans for an afternoon and evening bridge party in the Nurses' Home on October 11 were made by the W.A. of the Royal Jubilee Hospital at its meeting yesterday afternoon. Mrs. J. Phethean and Mrs. L. G. W. Tallamy will have charge of bridge and Mrs. G. Sheppard refreshments. Reservations may be made by telephoning G 1697 and G 6357.

Mrs. Thomas Miller, the president, was in the chair. Miss Curry reported proceeds of $210.07 from the refreshment and candy concession held by the W.A. at the recent fair, and a vote of thanks was passed to all those who had contributed to its success.

Mrs. Henry Heisterman reported two sewing meetings, at which 70 articles were finished. Mrs. F. V. Longstaff and Mrs. W. A. Luney had visited the ward patients during the month and found everything satisfactory. Mrs. P. E. Taylor reported having received $42 in dues.

Mrs. E. Gilmer and Mrs. Guy Ford were appointed to the buying committee; Mrs. Longstaff and Mrs. E. E. Henderson the visiting committee, and Mrs. F. A. Lindsay press convener. A bill of $4 for a special nurse supplied to a needy patient was ordered paid. The sum of $97.50 was voted to cover the cost of chintz for three rooms on the maternity floor, and for a bolt of chintz for the new wing. The request of the Junior W.A. to use two of the auxiliary's sewing machines in connection with work for the doll bazaar, was granted.

Miss Curry and Mrs. Taylor were named delegates to the British Columbia Hospitals' Association convention at the Empress Hotel on October 15, 16 and 17, and all members were asked to try to attend one or more of the sessions. A letter was received from Dr. T. W. Walker, thanking the members for their assistance during Hospital Week.

The first Friday in February was set aside as the date for the annual linen shower. Mrs. S. H. Okell asked for the auxiliary's support for the Lord Mayor's Refugee Fund in the tag day and also the bridge party to be held at Government House on October 16.

Clubwomen's News

The Cathedral Sewing Circle will meet in the guild room of the Memorial Hall Friday at 2.30, prior to the silver tea.

Tuesday afternoon the choir of Belmont United Church held a successful tea in the schoolroom. Mrs. F. T. Smith, the convener, welcomed the guests. The home cooking staff was run by Mrs. T. Hardy and Mrs. E. W. Cook; tea by Mesdames Evans, W. Johnston and Roberts, assisted by Misses Kay, Knott, Marjorie Fraser and Helen McLellan. Songs were rendered by Mrs. Meston, Mrs. D. Gosse and Enid Middleton, accompanied by Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Harwood. The proceeds are for choir funds.

Young Women's Auxiliary of Knox Presbyterian Church met Tuesday evening last at the home of the Misses McPhail, 2643 Forbes Street, the president, Miss Peggy McPhail, in the chair. Rev. J. Mackie Nixon took the devotionary part of the evening, and four new members were welcomed. It is hoped that more members will be secured before the end of the year. Activities for the ensuing year were discussed and it was arranged that next month being the birthday month a patriotic tea would be held on October 22 in the church hall. Final arrangements will be made at the next meeting on October 15, at the home of Mrs. Curtis, Camosun Street. After the meeting a social half-hour was spent and the hostesses served refreshments.

Victoria Chapter, Women of the Moose, met Monday. Senior Regent, Miss D. Guelph presiding. The sick, matron, Mrs. Wetherell, gave her report. Mrs. E. Murcheson, wa. relief chairman, told of members knitting squares for quilts and of acquiring material to be made up of useful garments for refugees for the Red Cross, of visits to the military hospitals and barracks, taking fruit, cigarettes, etc. Also that parcels were made up for members of a Scottish regiment who are expected to leave here soon. A social time was spent, bingo being played, Paper Costume contest prizes were won: First, Mrs. D. Fairhurst and Mrs. M. Drummond; second, Mrs. A. Spaven and Mrs. J. Reed, tombola prizes were won by Mrs. L. Woodhouse, Mrs. W. J. Parker and Mrs. J. Murcheson; guessing contest, Mrs. D. Fairhurst. Drill practice will be held next Monday at 7 p.m., officers and escorts to be present. Also on the same night at 8 p.m. an old-time dance will be held in K. of P. Hall, Broad Street. Next meeting will be Monday, October 14, at 8 p.m.

Social and Personal

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor entertained the officers of the 1st Battalion, the Canadian Scottish Regiment, at dinner at Government House last night. Covers were laid for 40 at a table centred with a colorful arrangement of zinnias, dahlias and other fall flowers, lighted with green candles in silver candelabra.

Miss Innes Bodwell went over to Vancouver yesterday to be the guest of Mrs. Herbert S. Wood for a few days.

Mrs. Lennox Irving and her sister, Mrs. M. L. Curtis, went over to Vancouver yesterday on a visit to Mrs. J. H. Carswell.

Miss Julie Hagel of Calgary is visiting in Victoria and is the guest of Miss B. Noonan, 717 McCune Street.

Mr. Phil Willis has arrived in the city from Winnipeg and is the guest of his parents, Dr. and Mrs. S. J. Willis, Fort Street, for a few days.

Miss Gwenneth Jacobson of New Westminster came over to Victoria this afternoon to attend the Duncan-Harrison wedding and is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Harrison, Wark Street.

Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. Frank Taaffe, who have been guests at the Empress Hotel since her arrival from Vancouver to join him here, have taken up their residence at The Georgian, Moss Street.

In honor of Miss Jean May and Miss Edna Scoble, graduates of the Jubilee Hospital, who are to be married shortly, and Miss Phyllis Jones, who is leaving the permanent staff of the Jubilee Hospital, graduates of the hospital on the permanent staff arranged an informal party for them on Monday evening in the reception-room of the Nurses' Home. Miss May and Miss Scoble each received a set of crystal goblets and water jug. A small gift was also presented to Miss Jones. A buffet supper was served and games were played. Those present were Mesdames R. Love, H. Hamilton, Misses Gray, Skidmore, O. Wilson, J. Boyer, L. Ferrero, M. Gamon, M. Edgar, V. Snow, M. Coutts, L. Colwell, J. Stroud, P. Leith, M. Irving, Hayward, A. Northcott, M. Toynbee and M. Plunkett.

Miss Alice Parkinson was the guest of honor at a kitchen shower held at the home of Mrs. C. C. Warren, Foul Bay Road, last evening. Mrs. Warren and Miss Violet Oveden being joint hostesses. A large box artistically decorated in wine and apple green contained the gifts, and the guest of honor received a corsage bouquet of red rosebuds. Fuchsia-colored asters were arranged in the reception room and the supper table had a centerpiece of pink carnations in a silver bowl, pink tapers in silver holders. Mrs. Parkinson, the bride-to-be's mother, presided at the table. The guests included Mesdames Parkinson, W. Lawson, K. Fidler, J. Harvey, R. Robinson, A. McFarlane, H. Miller, Ray Kersey, G. Edgelow, Misses A. Buckle, W. Bleasdale, K. Freeston, T. Walker, B. Young, M. Brand, T. Bradford, D. Cox, G. Schroeder, V. Lawson, K. Smith, V. Wheeling, K. Jones, H. Parkinson, F. Oldham, P. Williams, L. Robinson and M. Alexis.

Last evening at her home on Oliphant Street Mrs. S. H. McLaughlin was hostess at a miscellaneous shower given in compliment to Miss Mary Coleman, whose marriage to Mr. Herbert M. White, R.C.A.F., will take place at the end of this month. Pink, white and blue were the colors used in decoration on the gift table, at one end of which was placed a miniature cathedral window lit with six tapers, in front of which a miniature bride was standing, and behind which the gifts were placed. Refreshments were served later from the same table. The guests included Miss Mary Coleman, Mrs. R. J. McLaughlin, Mrs. S. Saunders, Mrs. A. Coleman, Mrs. E. Coleman and Mrs. R. Noble, and the Misses Margaret Clark and Evelyn Hodgkinson.

The Misses Mona and Joyce Ostler entertained on Tuesday evening at a miscellaneous shower at their home, 3339 Doncaster Drive, for Miss Doreen Plimley, who is to be married shortly. Michaelmas daisies and yellow marguerites decorated the rooms, and corsage bouquets were presented to the bride-to-be and her mother on their arrival. The gifts were attached by mauve and yellow streamers to an umbrella set on a table. Games were enjoyed during the evening, the prize winners being Miss Dorothy Roberts, Mrs. R. Maitland and Miss Plimley. A sit-down supper was served later by the hostesses. A lace cloth over a mauve foundation covered the table, which was centred with Michaelmas daisies in a low silver bowl and lighted by tall yellow tapers in silver holders. Mrs. L. C. Ostler presided. The guests were Mesdames Percy W. Plimley, S. Lownds, R. McGregor, P. Maitland, L. C. Ostler, Kenneth McDonald, Ray Maitland, R. Reid and Misses Lillian Barber, Betty Witmer, Dorothy Roberts, Hazel Carter and Dorothy Day.

Mrs. J. Walton and Miss Frances Mocher were hostesses at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Walton, Graham Street, in honor of Miss Gladys Phillips, whose marriage to Mr. F. Pearce will take place shortly. A model of a house contained the gifts and the guest of honor and her mother, Mrs. N. Phillips, were presented with corsage bouquets of carnations and fern. The rooms were arranged with mauve and pink asters and white chrysanthemums. The guests were Mesdames N. Phillips, F. Stubbs, A. Coleman, R. E. Walton, Bennett, F. Chamberlain, R. Stewart, Roy Elwood, S. Pocock, and L. Mudryk, and the Misses Ruth Bennett, Isabella Bull, Freda Akhurst, Jessie Edmunds, Dorothy Henson, Alma Keeler, Emma Mutch, Gwynneth Phillips, Isabella Sloan, Betty O'Leary, Lily Erickson, Lillian Harper, Agnes McMillan, Dorothy Gardner, Joyce Maxwell, Kay Williams, May McBeath, May Crowe, Irene Wallace, Peggy Merritt, Ronnie Marks, Mary Peden, Marjorie Burton, Lil Bennett, Gladys Loughney and Eleanor Walton.

The W.A. to Pro Patria Branch, Canadian Legion, will hold a card social on Friday at 8 in the V.W.I. rooms, 635 Fort Street. Bingo will also be played, good prizes will be given and refreshments served.

Delightful Tea at Mrs. John Hart's

The social amenities were happily allied with philanthropy at the attractively-arranged tea held at the home of Mrs. John Hart, Fairfield Road, yesterday afternoon in aid of the funds of the Women's Auxiliary to St. Joseph's Hospital. The proceeds amounted to the handsome sum of $125.

Mrs. Hart was assisted in receiving the many guests by Mrs. Llewellyn Jones in the entrance hall, which, in common with the other reception rooms, was gay with masses of asters, zinnias, dahlias, Michaelmas daisies and other fall flowers. Charming corsage bouquets were presented to the hostess and to each of the artists contributing to the musical program, which included songs by Mrs. T. H. Johns, Mrs. E. G. Aldous and Mrs. J. S. Bullock, who also played piano-forte solos; violin solos by Miss Julia Kent Jones, and piano solos by Miss Doreen Briggs, who also shared the role of accompanist with Mrs. C. C. Warn.

In the dining-room the tea table held as its centerpiece a mixture of flowers in a white glass bowl, and at each end of the table were silver candelabra with white tapers. Presiding over the tea and coffee urns were Mrs. R. W. Mayhew, Mrs. Reed Paige Clark, Mrs. F. J. Schell, past president, and Mrs. F. I. Doherty, vice-president. Helping with the serving were Mrs. W. J. Holman, Mrs. R. N. Dickinson, Mrs. P. Criddle, Mrs. Burnley Hall, Mrs. G. Brady and Mrs. F. M. Bryant.

Mrs. Anthony Creet, the secretary, assisted Mrs. J. S. Akins with the receipt of custom. Mrs. Alex. McDermott had on display a beautiful doll, a replica of Sonja Henie, with a complete wardrobe, made by herself, and which she has donated to the bazaar to be held shortly by the auxiliary.

The Presbyterian executive of the United W.M.S. will meet at 2.30 p.m., just prior to the rally at 3 p.m., at which Mrs. S. S. Muldrew will tell of her visit to Dominion Board.

Evacuees Settling Down Happily

OTTAWA (CP)—The physical response of British children to life in Canada, seen in rosy cheeks and rising weight charts, indicates the wisdom of bringing British children to Canada, R. K. Jopson, London, said yesterday.

Mr. Jopson is the representative in Canada of the children's overseas reception board and liaison officer between the Dominion and British authorities concerned with bringing British children to Canada for the duration of the war to remove them from danger.

According to Mr. Jopson, applications for evacuations have been received in the United Kingdom from well over 250,000 families. He said nearly 75 per cent of those wanting to send children away from the war zone choose Canada as the most desirable refuge.

Already more than 1,500 children have been brought to Canada with government assistance and, Mr. Jopson said, "their improvement in health proves beyond doubt that subconsciously they were nervously-disturbed at home under war conditions."

He said that in every single case the boys and girls he saw here had gained weight and seemed to be completely absorbed into Canadian life.

SHOCKED BY DISASTER
Mr. Jopson expressed horror and indignation at the recent sinking of a British ship by a German submarine with the loss of 23 children coming to Canada under the government evacuation scheme.

"I hope that this disaster will not affect the movement of the children," he said. Mr. Jopson said that 42 of these children were going to relatives and friends. They were distributed as follows: Alberta 5, British Columbia 3, Manitoba 1, Nova Scotia 1, New Brunswick 1, Ontario 19, Quebec 6 and Saskatchewan 6.

The remainder would have been taken to homes provided for them upon arrival.

The Second Mile Club met at the home of Mrs. McGill, 1170 Tattersall Drive, Mrs. Waller, president, in the chair. Mrs. Brown led the devotionary. Rev. G. A. Reynolds was the speaker of the evening. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mesdames Bishop, Bagnelle, Pearmain and Waller.

ADAMS-AARONSON

Standard baskets of gladioli and Michaelmas daisies were arranged in the chancel and aisles of Christ Church Cathedral for the pretty ceremony last night at 8.30 which united in marriage Elinor Rose, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert H. Aaronson, 949 Meares Street, to Henry George (Harry) Adams, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Adams, 1444 Haultain Street. Rev. T. R. Lancaster performed the ceremony, and Mr. Stanley Bulley, Cathedral organist, played the wedding music.

Entering the church with her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride wore a lovely floor-length frock of white net over taffeta, with full skirt, and a bolero jacket composed entirely of baby frills of the net. Her fingertip veil was attached to a coronet of white net embroidered in seed pearls, and in her lace-mittened hands she carried a shower bouquet of pink roses, carnations and heather.

Miss Beatrice Wall of Portland was the only bridesmaid, gowned in powder blue French organdie, made with a full skirt and matching jacket, the new patch-pockets on the skirt and the lapels of the coat being embroidered with matching braid. She wore a small flowered hat in shades of blue, and carried a sheaf of gladioli and bebe chrysanthemums. Mr. James Pattullo was groomsmen, and ushers were Messrs. Gordon Aaronson and George Simmons.

At the reception held at the bride's home after the ceremony, Mrs. Aaronson received the guests in a royal blue model of triple sheer, with black accessories, assisted by Mrs. Adams, wearing an imported model of hyacinth blue chiffon, with navy blue accessories, both wearing corsage bouquets of pink roses and heather.

Autumn flowers were used throughout the rooms, and the supper table was covered with a lace cloth and centred with the three-tiered bride's cake, flanked by cut glass baskets of pink roses, and pink tapers in silver candelabra.

For the honeymoon by motor up-island and on the mainland, the bride wore a topcoat of promenade green with pink trimming, and Havana brown accessories, and a corsage bouquet of Tallman roses and swainsons. They will take up residence on their return in their new home, 2650 Belmont Avenue.

CLOGGIE-MYRELA

Stoker Petty Officer William T. Cloggie of H.M.C.S. Restigouche, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cloggie, 3436 12th Avenue, Vancouver, who is on a brief leave from active service, was married to Miss Violet Myrela, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald D. Myrela, Government Street, Victoria, at a pretty ceremony in the First United Church last evening at 8. Rev. Hugh A. McLeod officiated, and Mr. G. H. Peaker was at the organ.

Standard baskets of fall flowers were arranged before the lectern, and posies marked the guest pews, the decorations being arranged by Mrs. Arthur H. Cox and Mrs. C. Chapman.

The pretty bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a wedding gown of white satin and lace, with an Elizabethan collar of the lace, the skirt ending in a long train. Her filmy veil of illusion was worn with a halo of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of pink roses and white carnations.

There were three attendants, Mrs. Henry Allan, matron of honor, was in peach taffeta; Miss Mickey Lawson and Miss Dorothy Harper, the bridesmaids, were in orchid and pale green taffeta, respectively. All wore shepherd hats to match their gowns and long white kid gloves and carried Colonial bouquets of flowers in the pastel notes. Leading Stoker James Boyd, R.C.N., was best man, and Leading Stoker Kenneth Campbell, R.C.N., and Leading Seaman Robert Dewhurst, R.C.N., were ushers.

A largely-attended reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, which was massed with autumn flowers. Mrs. Myrela received the guests in a floor-length gown of black crepe, with black velvet hat, and a corsage bouquet of violets and pin roses, assisted by Mrs. Cloggie of Vancouver, wearing a floor-length gown of pilot blue crepe, with hat en suite, and a corsage bouquet of Tallman roses.

Supper was served from a table centred with the three-tiered wedding cake on a froth of pale lace, flanked with vases of pink carnations, and tall white tapers in silver holders.

Out-of-town guests included the bridegroom's parents and sister, Miss Elsie Cloggie, of Vancouver; the bride's brothers, John and Frank Myrela, who are on leave from the R.C.A.F. in Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Walker, Jordan River.

Mr. and Mrs. Cloggie left for a honeymoon in Vancouver and Edmonton, the bride traveling in a black fitted coat over a soldier blue frock, with black felt hat, silver fox fur, and a corsage bouquet of gardenias. The bride will reside at the home of her parents during her husband's absence on active service.

Among the many handsome gifts was a trillite lamp and hand-painted picture from the bride's former associates at the Hudson's Bay Company.

CRAIG-BARON

At St. Alban's Church last evening at 8. Rev. O. L. Jull united in marriage Ella, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Baron, 723 Field Street, and Mr. Kenneth M. Craig, only son of Mr. and Mrs. N. Craig, 766 Kings Road. The organist was in attendance.

The bride was given away by her father and wore a Chile brown redingote gown with dark brown accessories and a corsage bouquet of cream Tallman roses. The bridegroom's sister, Miss Alice Craig, was bridesmaid, wearing a navy blue sheer dress with a matching hat and a corsage spray of pink roses. Mr. Stanley McLaren was best man and Mr. Douglas Hill-Tout, usher.

A largely-attended reception was held in the church hall, during which the bride and groom stood before a white trellised arch decorated with autumn-hued flowers. The flower-decked buffet supper table was lighted with white tapers in silver candelabra and centred with the wedding cake. Mrs. Baron welcomed the guests in a "heavenly" blue crepe dress, assisted by Mrs. Craig in a wine ensemble. They both wore black accessories and corsage bouquets of pink carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Craig will return to Victoria to live after a honeymoon in Vancouver, for which the bride left in a cocoa brown coat trimmed with brown fur over her wedding ensemble.

HARBINSON-BELL

At a quiet ceremony in the vestry of First United Church last evening at 8.30 Rev. Hugh McLeod united in marriage Violet Kathleen, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Bell, 2407 Cook Street, and Mr. Eric J. Harbison, only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Harbison, 1214 Carlisle Street, Esquimalt.

The bride was given away by her father, and wore a gown of Royal blue chiffon velvet with matching accessories and a corsage bouquet of pink roses and gardenias. Miss Dorothy Bell attended her sister in a rust crepe frock with brown accessories and a corsage bouquet of Tallman roses and violets. Mr. James Mossop was best man.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where a few additional guests were welcomed. Autumn flowers were arranged in the rooms, the bride and groom standing between standard baskets of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums. A three-tiered cake stood in the centre of the supper table, which was decorated with vases of yellow roses. Mrs. Bell received the guests in an afternoon frock of Queen's blue crepe with black accessories, assisted by Mrs. Harbison in powder blue, and both wore corsage bouquets of pink carnations.

After a honeymoon in Vancouver, for which the bride left in a beige, fur-trimmed coat over her wedding dress, Mr. and Mrs. Harbison will make their home at Carlisle Street, Esquimalt.

FOSTER-RUSS

EDMONTON—At the hour of 2 p.m. on Friday, September 6, Christ Church was the scene of a wedding of interest when Dorothy Ann, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russ of Grande Prairie, became the bride of Alan Richard Foster, R.C.M.P., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Foster, Colquhuts, B.C. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. Jones.

The church was beautifully decorated with late summer flowers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a toe-length gown of white sheer, fashioned with a very full skirt and dainty tucked jacket to match. Her floor-length veil was held in place by white sweet peas. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and cornflowers.

Attendant to the bride, Miss Ruth Field wore a toe-length dress of Nile green taffeta, fashioned on princess lines, and a tiny hat to match. Her bouquet was of asters and sweet peas. Mr. Len Duffield, R.C.M.P., supported the groom.

During the signing of the register Miss Muriel Fish sang "I Love You Truly," accompanied on the organ by Mrs. J. M. Smart.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Russ, mother of the bride, wore a smart gown of soft grey with navy blue accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Pink tapers in silver holders and pink roses in bud vases graced the bride's table, which was laid in ecru lace. Forming the centerpiece was a three-tiered wedding cake flanked with roses. Mrs. J. H. Hunter and Mrs. T. Newton poured tea. Miss Lona Ward, Miss Muriel Fish and Miss Ruth Field assisted in serving. Toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. T. Newton.

Later Constable and Mrs. Foster left by motor for Edmonton and Evansburg, where they will make their home.

To travel the bride wore a smart navy blue silk crepe suit, with plaid hood, over which she wore a Hollywood polo coat in tan, with navy blue accessories.

CLOWES-McKINNIE

The marriage took place quietly on Sunday afternoon at St. James' Anglican Church, Vancouver, Rev. Father Cooper officiating, between Dorothy Dallas, daughter of the late Mr. H. T. McKinnie and Mrs. McKinnie, 3731 West 6th Avenue, Vancouver, and Richard Harold Worley Clowes (L.A.C.), R.C.A.F., elder son of Major and Mrs. R. H. W. Clowes, 1414 Stadacona Avenue, Victoria.

KENNEDY-PIERSON

Rev. A. E. Whitehouse, D.D., officiated at the wedding of Phyllis Margaret (Peggy), only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Pierson, 2639 Prior Street, and Mr. James Finley Kennedy, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Kennedy, Sooke, which took place at the home of the bride's parents last evening. During the ceremony the bride couple stood beneath a mauve and white floral arch entwined with ivy, and a white bell.

The bride was given away by her father, and wore an afternoon frock of navy blue sheer crepe with a flowered bodice and sash and a matching jacket, navy accessories and a corsage bouquet of pink roses and swainsons. Miss Marjorie McAlpine was bridesmaid in a smart navy blue ensemble with a corsage bouquet of pink carnations, and Mr. John Kennedy supported his brother.

Prize Winning Experts Say:

Start now to make lovely Jams and Jellies this Quicker, more Reliable way

Saves Time and Energy
It's astonishing how quickly you can make jam and jelly with Certo. Here's the reason. For jams you need give only a one-minute to two-minute full rolling boil—for jellies only a half-minute to a minute. "Certo saves me time, fuel and work over a hot stove," writes Mrs. Ed. Cooper, Prize-winner at Beechy Fair (Sask.).

More Jam or Jelly
Because very little juice can boil away in so short a time, you get up to half again as much jam or jelly from an equal amount of fruit. Mrs. A. Connell, Prize-winner at Red Deer Fair (Alta.) agrees. "Because of the shorter boiling I get more jam or jelly," she writes.

"Make Jam and Jelly with CERTO—it's Quicker-Easier—gives Sure Results"

3 out of 4 Prizewinners in Jam and Jelly Contests use CERTO

Writes Mrs. G. H. McLachlan of Magnetawan, Ont., Prizewinner at Magnetawan Fair: "I have been using Certo for a number of years, and would not think of using any other method for making my prize-winning jams and jellies."

FREE BOOK OF 72 RECIPES

Under the label of every bottle of Certo there is a book of 72 tested recipes for jams and jellies. Different fruits need different recipes. Certo gives you a separate recipe for each fruit. Be sure to follow each recipe exactly.

Better Taste and Colour

The Certo boil is so short that the fresh fruit flavour and colour remain unchanged and unspoiled, whereas long-boiling affects both taste and colour. "The short boiling time keeps the colour and flavour of the fruit," writes Mrs. Arthur Stewart, Prizewinner at Edmonton Exhibition.

You Can't Go Wrong

If you follow exactly the recipes given with every bottle of Certo you can be sure of lovely jams and jellies. Mrs. E. M. Sawyer, Prize-winner at Sherbrooke Exhibition, knows how true this is. "You can depend on Certo if the instructions are carried out carefully," she writes.

CERTO is concentrated FRUIT PECTIN... the natural jellifying substance extracted from fruit in which it is most abundant.

Brantford Mayor Given War Post

OTTAWA (CP)—Appointment of Reginald Waterous, mayor of Brantford, Ont., as director of material resources, National War Services Department, was announced by War Services Minister J. G. Gardiner at a press conference today.

The minister said Mr. Waterous would make surveys of production of material goods for war, farm production and the like. Previously G. H. Lash, director of public information, had brought his activities under the national war services department and Mr. Gardiner had announced appointment of Dr. Hugh Herbert Christie of Estherville, Sask., as director of medical services; Dr. Ernest William Stapleford of Victoria College, Toronto, as director of voluntary services, and Georges Roger Gerald Benoit of Ottawa as director of recruiting.

The minister explained the directors of medical services, voluntary services and the recruiting would handle Canada's human resources for the war effort.

Red Cross Notes

BELMONT AVENUE UNIT
Another large bundle of clothes for refugees has been sent into headquarters by the Belmont Avenue Red Cross group. This group has also assisted several deserving families in the city and outfitted many children for school. Used material has been donated which is ripped, cleaned and made into various garments. The meetings are held every Wednesday from 10 until 4. Members bring their own lunch and tea is served. Any woman wanting to help will be welcomed. Donations of used clothing will also be appreciated.

Prospect Lake Unit

The Prospect Lake Red Cross unit met on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. W. Thompson, West Saanich Road. It was decided to donate $20 to the London Refugee Fund and $10 to be spent for material to make up refugee garments. Residents wishing to make garments phone Mrs. P. M. Monckton, Colquitz 29M, for material. A 500 and whist drive card party will be held at the home of Mrs. Monckton, West Saanich Road on Tuesday, October 1, at 8.

Clubwomen's News

A large gathering of members of the R.C.A.S.C. Auxiliary met on Tuesday evening at the home of Col. and Mrs. H. C. Green, several new members being welcomed. It was arranged to send a Christmas parcel to each of the members of the unit overseas, and wool was distributed to make comforts for these boxes. Any donations of cigarettes, candy, and handkerchiefs will be appreciated. The next meeting will be held on Wednesday, October 9, at 2:30 p.m., at the home of the president, Mrs. A. E. Pearson, Mt. Newton Cross Road. Members desiring transportation may phone Mrs. H. E. Hacking, E 5209. New members will be welcomed.

2 Poles Drowned

LONDON (CP)—Dr. Ygmunt Gralinski, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs of the Polish government in London, was drowned 600 miles off the Irish coast while en route to Canada on an official mission, according to an announcement. (A casualty list for the torpedoed liner City of Benares issued in Montreal, included Dr. Gralinski's name.) M. B. Nagorski, general manager of the Gdynia-America Line in London, also was drowned.

Restriction Hits Japan

Only Britain, Americas To Get U.S. Scrap Iron

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt today ordered restriction of exports of scrap iron and steel which will permit them after October 16 to go only to countries of the western hemisphere and to Great Britain.

A statement issued by the White House said President Roosevelt had approved the establishment of additional controls over the exportation of iron and steel scrap with a view to conserving the available supply to meet the rapidly expanding requirements of the defence program in this country.

No mention was made of Japan, which has been a big buyer of the scrap, but the latest step to restrict the exports immediately was regarded by some authorities as an additional indication of the United States' dissatisfaction with Japan's policy in the Far East.

Stephen Early, Presidential secretary, told reporters in response to questions that Mr. Roosevelt had been in almost continuous consultation, mostly by telephone, with State Secretary Cordell Hull, but he knew of no major conference scheduled by the President to consider touchy Far Eastern problems.

Early said the new export limitation would apply to 75 types of iron and steel scrap, even though only 13 of those types have found a place in the export trade.

For some time exports of the scrap metal have been handled under a licensing system. Licenses will continue to be issued until October 16. Early said, and after that they will be granted only for shipments to western hemisphere nations and the United Kingdom.

C.G.I.T. Leaders Held Annual Conference

The annual conference of the Victoria C.G.I.T. Leaders' Council was held at the summer home of Mrs. T. Hammond at Shawinigan Lake over the week-end, with 24 leaders attending. At the Saturday evening and Sunday morning meetings Miss Jean Wilson led the discussions and Miss Anne Fountain gave much valuable help. During the afternoon the annual reports were submitted and the nominating committee brought in its report.

Mrs. W. P. Freeman installed the new executive, including: Mrs. R. N. E. Harris, honorary president; Miss Minnie Beveridge, president; Jean Munroe, vice-president; Margaret Fleming, secretary-treasurer; Miss Doris Ball, sponsor of Girls' Council; Miss Jean Adams, assistant sponsor; Miss Nancy Hepburn, press reporter; denominational representatives, Miss Jean Appleyard (Reformed Episcopal), Miss Sylvia Smith (Baptist), Miss Rita Rogers (Presbyterian) and Mrs. A. E. Thomson (United Church). The conference closed on Sunday evening with an inspiring talk by Miss Fountain, whose subject was "Christ, Our Cornerstone."

$25,000,000 Loan From U.S. to China

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has agreed today to lend China $25,000,000 through the Export-Import Bank, bringing to $70,000,000 the amount of credits extended to China in the last two years.

The new loan is to be liquidated through the sale of tungsten to the United States. Jesse Jones, Federal Loan Administrator, said the Metals Reserve Company, an R.F.C. subsidiary, had agreed to buy $30,000,000 worth of tungsten from China as part of the defence program.

Tungsten is a heavy metallic element used in alloys and in making a hard steel for high-speed tools and electrical magnets.

Queen Welcomed After Bombing

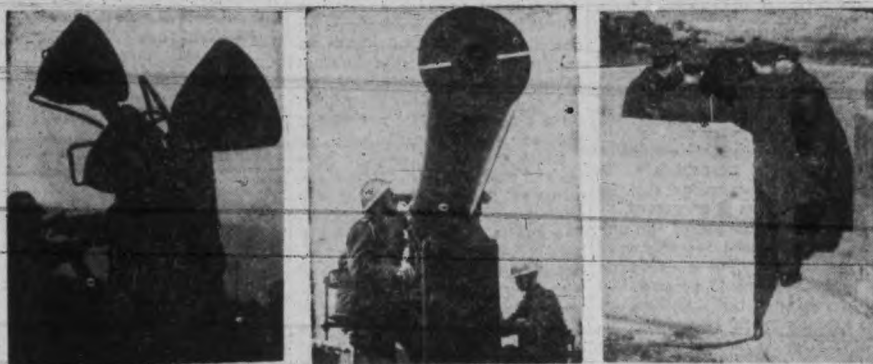

Both the King and Queen were in Buckingham Palace when German planes dropped five bombs which struck on or near the building, but neither of Their Majesties was hurt. The raid on September 13, in which Buckingham Palace was damaged, came while London newspapers were pointing out that the King and Queen were in the same position as thousands of their subjects, whose homes already had been damaged. Both Their Majesties were in a shelter below the palace during the five-hour raid. The Queen is shown accepting a bouquet from five-year-old Pat Skidmore during a win-the-war tag day.

On Guard Against Surprise Invasion Attempt

Bren machine-gun and anti-tank gun crews keeping guard on England's coast are on the alert for an attempted surprise invasion by German forces. With the R.A.F. proving more than a match for aerial forces of the Nazis it is thought that Hitler may, in desperation, order an invasion from the sea.

ALEX KAMPOURIS' sale by Newark to Brooklyn for $25,000 and an unnamed player adds to George Martin Weiss' reputation as a baseball David Harum.

Kampouris went to the Bears a year ago with Tommy Padden and $25,000 in the deal that made Nick Witek a New York Giant.

George Weiss, head of the New York Yankee farm system, has done an amazing job in disposing of surplus and unwanted talent. He has collected more than $250,000 for it in five years, and always has obtained throw-ins who turned out to be valuable.

The Brooklyn Dodgers tossed in Johnny McCarthy when they paid the Yankee organization $40,000 for Buddy Hassett. McCarthy went to the Polo Grounds the following season for $42,500 more.

Weiss transferred poor Willard Hersberger to the Cincinnati Reds for $30,000 and Eddie Miller. He then peddled Miller to the Boston Bees for $25,000 and Vinor DiMaggio and Tommy Reis.

Reis, who developed arm trouble last spring when it appeared that he would stay with the Yankees, still belongs to and is highly regarded by the New York club.

But when Vince DiMaggio became the home run king of the American Association, Weiss let Cincinnati have the oldest of the three famous brothers for $40,000 plus Stanley Bordagaray and Nino Bongiovanni.

Frenchy Bordagaray is finishing among the American Association's leading batters and base-runners... helped Kansas City to its second straight pennant.

Weiss was disappointed when the Blues failed to sell him for a chunk before he was eligible for the draft, but the Kansas City subsidiary can't miss getting $7,500 for the stocky flycatcher.

Weiss doesn't hesitate to stick up major league clubs when one of them suddenly finds itself desperately in need of a replacement. Bill Terry had to protect himself and the Giants when he gave Newark $35,000 for Bob Seeds.

Detroit would have paid $50,000 for Kampouris before they purchased Dutch Meyer from Knoxville as a substitute for the ailing

The American League at last has reached the showdown stage in its furious pennant struggle and Detroit Tigers are holding the ace. Their double victory over Chicago White Sox yesterday was all they needed.

They now can eliminate Cleveland Indians by winning any one of the three games. Two teams have with each other this week-end. And they either can brush off New York Yankees by winning two of them, or they can wait for the world champions to wear themselves out.

It is readily apparent that neither Cleveland nor New York can win except through Detroit losing two games to come down to their level in the lost column. As far as Cleveland is concerned the Tigers must lose three, because whatever they don't lose the Indians will.

TOUGH TASK

The Yankees still could get a tie by winning all their remaining games if Cleveland knocked off the Tigers in two or all three games. In the first case it would be a deadlock with Detroit and in the second with Cleveland. The champions already have won six in a row, however, and to expect them to win six more in four days is stretching the imagination to the breaking point, even against Philadelphia and Washington.

They have a double-header today with the A's, while Detroit and Cleveland grid for their final series opening tomorrow in Cleveland.

The Indians kept in the pennant fight yesterday by beating St. Louis Browns 4 to 2 as Al Milnar bested Vernon Kennedy in a hurling duel.

The Tigers took two thrillers from the White Sox, who had won 13 of their 20 previous engagements, and big Buck Newsom got credit for both, bringing his victory total to 21 for the year. The scores were 10 to 9 and 3 to 2.

Cincinnati Reds divided a doubleheader with St. Louis Cardinals, taking the first game 5 to 0 with Junior Thompson pitching two-hit ball. However, Johnny Mize notched his 42nd home run to lead the Red Birds to a 4 to 3 decision over Bucky Walters in the second game.

Chicago Cubs captured both ends of a twin bill from Pittsburgh Pirates, 2 to 1 and 6 to 4 and moved within one game of fourth place in the National League.

Comiskey Now
Fight Choice

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—

Accompanied by a tidal wave of rumors, a flood of money on Pat Comiskey hit the betting fronts here and across the Hudson in New York today, less than 12 hours before the Paterson Irishman tangles with Max Baer.

One betting commissioner estimated $100,000 of Comiskey money suddenly had appeared. As a result, the odds on the tussle jumped in favor of the big-jawed Irish kid with the solid right hand, establishing him as choice at 5 to 8.

Most of the folks in the know, however, guffawed at the talk of "something doing" which buzzed about as a result of this show of betting money.

Confronted with reports of "business" on the bout, they pointed out that Baer and his manager, Anell Hoffman, are reported to have bet more than $10,000, themselves, on Maxie to win and that Baer has a contract to appear in a Broadway show, hinging on his victory in this 15-round brawl.

With an expected crowd of 20,000 to 25,000 looking on, the one-time heavyweight king is right on the spot. If he loses, you can pack him back in mothballs.

B.C. Stars Win Again

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (CP)—

It will be do or die for Ontario all-stars when they play the British Columbia all-stars in the third game of the best-of-five series for the Canadian junior lacrosse championship and the Minto Cup at Vancouver tomorrow night.

The British Columbians last night defeated the visitors 23 to 21 in the second game after winning the first 16 to 13 at Vancouver last Monday.

Although the eastern champions, who recently disposed of the Manitoba all-stars on their way west, played a better game than the first time out, the British Columbians managed to come through in the pinches.

A last-quarter scoring melee kept the final score in doubt until the last few seconds.

Both battled on even terms in the first quarter, each scoring six goals. Ontario jumped ahead in the second to end the half with a 12 to 10 lead.

The westerners took over at the start of the third and when the quarter ended they held a 16 to 14 advantage.

UPHILL FIGHT

It was a case of an uphill fight all the way for Ontario, and it proved too steep.

The visitors came from the short end of a 4 to 2 count in the first quarter to end half-time with a 12 to 10 lead. At one time during the second quarter they held a 12 to 8 margin, but the westerners grabbed a couple of goals just before the whistle.

The British Columbia moved ahead in the third with a smart rally to lead 16 to 14 going into the final session.

The coasters started the fourth period with a drive that ran the count to 19 to 14 in their favor, but a terrific sustained power-house attack by the visitors netted six consecutive goals without a reply and gave them a 20 to 19 edge.

The margin proved short-lived as the British Columbians came back with four goals to a lone Ontario counter, closing the scoring.

Challendon to Race Saturday

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md. (AP)—

Challendon, chief challenger to the retired Seabiscuit's all-time money-winning record and regarded by many as the best horse in training, is coming home to race.

The Maryland-bred distance runner, absent from his home state since winning the Pimlico special last November, will go forth Saturday in the $15,000-added Havre De Grace handicap.

Owner W. L. Brann's future plans for Challendon remained undetermined, but the decision to start him Saturday was taken as an indication Brann had decided to let his champion shoot at Seabiscuit's money-winning mark of $437,730.

Seabiscuit established the record at seven years of age. Challendon, only four, has won $301,160 and has rich engagements booked. He was the 1939 "horse of the year" and today heads the handicap division.

ROLLER SKATING
AT SPORTS CENTRE

Roller skating at the Willows Sports Centre will be ushered in on Saturday night from 8 until 11. This was the announcement made today by Jimmy Heal, who has secured the centre for this popular pastime during the winter months.

Heal has been operating the outdoor rink at Elk Lake during the summer.

Skating sessions will be held on Tuesday and Thursday nights throughout the winter and on Saturday nights until the basketball season gets under way. There will also be skating on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.

Suitable music for the skaters will be provided by a Wurliitzer.

Revellers

Play at Vancouver

Senior Canadian football activity in Vancouver poked its nose through the fog at Macdonald Park last night, where the local grid squad, Revellers, was undergoing one of its week-night workouts, and shouted welcome news to the boys in silver and blue.

Through the medium of head coach George Deacon, Vancouver announced it was ready for the opening of the intercity Big Three league on October 12.

University of British Columbia Thunderbirds will be in the thick of things with a powerful team—only four of last year's players have been lost—and a combined Knights of Columbus-North Shore Lions squad has commenced training.

Although final arrangements have not been decided upon, it is expected Revellers will travel to Vancouver October 12 to play the combined team in the first game of the season. Varsity will visit Victoria on the following Monday, October 14, for a big Thanksgiving Day game with the local team.

THANKSGIVING GAME

During the season it is expected Varsity will play night games at Vancouver Athletic Park and will play in Victoria on holidays. Compulsory military training at the university will take three hours of the boys' time every Saturday afternoon, hence the new arrangements. Final decision has not been made though.

The start of this season will mark the second year of organization of Victoria Revellers.

The team made its start last year under the guidance of Coach Deacon and assistant coach Jim Smith, and despite overwhelming odds, including pre-season injuries to experienced members of the team and greenness of the majority of players, did an excellent job against the mainland machines.

The story this year will have a new plot altogether, and both Victoria and Vancouver followers of the sport will get an eye opener when the Revellers take to the gridiron in their opening games.

The story was begun last spring when players spent more than a month in practice. It was dropped for another couple of months and then the team started work-outs for the opening of the season.

That was more than a month ago and the boys have been spending three nights a week and Sunday mornings at Macdonald Park going through their paces.

This year's team will include several new players, many of last year's club members and a number of more outstanding junior players out to make good in senior competition.

Outstanding new players of the team will include two former Vancouverites and an American football star from Renton, Washington.

NEW PLAYERS

Don Douglas, 202, played for Knights of Columbus last year but will be seen in one of the inside wing slots in the Revellers' line this year. It will be his 16th year in grid warfare. In 1928 he was a member of Regina Pats when they won the junior championship of Canada. He has been on the coast five years and was a member of Vancouver Meramalos up to last year when they joined with Knights of Columbus.

Hank Smith, 220, was chosen for the western Canada all-star team last year through his work on Knights of Columbus. He will hold down a middle wing spot on the local machine. Smith is rapidly recovering from a shoulder injury aggravated in a stiff workout a week ago. He will be ready for the opening game.

Bob Fulton, 218, from Renton, will be seen in the backfield. Fulton was one of the star players for the Renton American football club when it won the Western Washington League last year. His kicking is sensational.

Seattle Ice Team
Will Be Rebuilt

SEATTLE (AP)—

With the new Seattle hockey management announcing it will retain only two members of last year's team, it appeared today many of the 1939-40 tail-enders in the Pacific Coast League may play in the Seattle City League.

Several players are working here and don't care to be sold elsewhere. The City League tossed out its A.A.U. status last winter, so will be able to use the ex-pros.

Former Seattle manager Connie King already has been sold to Tulsa of the American Association. He'll be replaced by Danny Cox, manager here two years ago.

Players who probably will be retained are defencemen John Houbregs and winger Frank Daley. Two clubs are dickering for high-scoring Dave Downie. Hal Tabor, Glenn Vickers, Ralph Blyth, Vic Ripley and Ernie Kenney are on the block and among the City League prospects.

Hooked Cod Grabs
Salmon, Both Caught

The most freakish angling incident in several seasons was experienced by Major J. Wise recently on an excursion in Cowichan Bay fishing waters. It was one of those double-catch affairs on a single lure, but not of the ordinary common variety.

Quite often local anglers have hooked a salmon and found a cod firmly affixed to its tail. But this time it was the other way about.

The major's lure was swallowed by a cod, and while Wise was reeling it in the cod made a grab at a passing salmon and fastened its teeth solidly. The two were so firmly knotted together the major was able to gaff the salmon and pull both into the boat. On investigation he found the cod had been hooked deep in the mouth and the only thing that was holding the salmon was the cod's teeth.

Varsity to Field
Football Squad

VANCOUVER (CP)—

The University of British Columbia Thunderbirds will field a Canadian football team this season, Jim Harmer, men's athletic club president, said yesterday.

Practice and general conditioning will begin immediately, he said, and drill sessions will be held on Sundays if necessary.

(Dr. Gordon Shrum of the university announced recently that all major sports, with exception of basketball, would be curtailed for duration of the war, because the campus would be used Saturday afternoons for military training.)

Loopholes Are Closely Watched

NEW YORK (CP)—Capture by a Canadian armed merchant cruiser of the German cargo ship Weser suggests that loopholes on the American continent through which the enemy may receive war materials are being closely watched.

Manzanillo, off which the Weser was snared, is on Mexico's Pacific Coast and could serve as a port of departure for craft relaying contraband to Siberian ports for transshipment to Germany.

It has been suggested war materials have been reaching Germany and Italy from the United States through re-export from neutral countries. Yesterday the New York Daily News said oil, cotton, machinery and scrap iron was reaching axis territory through Arctic ports and Spain, Portugal, Cuba, Mexico and Russia.

Yesterday also, Francis I. duPont and Company, a brokerage firm, announced suspension of an employee "pending thorough investigation of his outside activities." The employee was Jose M. Mayorga, described by the News as "Spanish emissary of Franco's Juan March" (reputed banker of General Franco).

The News story quoted Department of Commerce figures to show that shipments from the United States to Spain and Portugal had increased more than $22,000,000 over last year's figures for the first seven months of 1940, and that exports to Mexico were up from roughly $45,000,000 to $51,000,000.

HIS MAJESTY VISITS R.C.A.F. SQUADRON

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND (CP)—The King paid an informal visit to the fighter squadron of the Royal Canadian Air Forces at their station today and talked with a number of Sqdn-Ldr. Ernest McNab's lads who have been shooting Nazi planes out of the sky or crippling them at a rate of more than one daily.

Accompanied by Sqdn-Ldr. McNab, His Majesty inspected the Canadians drawn up outside their dispersal point. The King wore the uniform of an air chief marshal. The Canadians—pilots and rankers—were in off-duty uniform.

His Majesty shook hands with and spoke to each pilot individually. He told McNab: "Your squadron is doing a fine job of work. Congratulations." He then walked through the ranks of the noncommissioned officers and airmen.

The King also saw the Polish squadron of the Royal Air Force, some few French airmen and several squadrons of the R.A.F.

Air Marshal W. A. Bishop, V.C., of the R.C.A.F., was a visitor at the Canadian squadron's station yesterday.

More Grain Delivered

OTTAWA (CP)—Problems of prairie farmers who are forced to store on their own premises a large portion of their fall grain harvest because of shortage of elevator space is being eased by increased delivery of quotas, and there is possibility of further increases, Agriculture Minister J. G. Gardiner said this afternoon.

By December 1, the minister said, it was expected the total deliveries on all farms would be at a minimum of 10 bushels to the acre and in some areas as high as 15.

Misery for Berliners

LONDON (CP)—In headlines stretching across the front page the Standard declared this evening that the Royal Air Force "will be over Berlin every night."

The Standard's air correspondent wrote that the R.A.F. would start regular nightly raids now and that, as the winter nights grew longer, attacks on the German capital would lengthen until they "occupy 8 to 10 hours."

No source for the information was given.

BOSTON (AP)—Milo J. Warner, Toledo, Ohio, attorney, won election as national commander of the American Legion today in a landslide on the first ballot.

TOWN TOPICS

The Victoria Short Wave Club will meet at 2500 Foul Bay Road, Friday evening at 8.

A permit for a $2,800 five-room home at 490 Superior Street was issued today by the city building inspector's office to C. Warren.

Regular meeting of Court Columbia, C.O.F., will be held on Friday at 8 p.m. in their hall, Hibben-Bones Building, Government Street.

Bank clearings in the city for the week ending today were $1,846,641. Clearings for the corresponding period of last year were $1,564,699.

A meeting of members of the Real Estate Board of Victoria will be held tomorrow in Spencer's private dining-room at 12.30. A general discussion will take place relative to rentals and other matters of interest.

Police are investigating two instances of broken windows last night in downtown stores. One window in the Victoria Baggage Co. building, Fort Street, was broken. Mr. Knowles, 1213 Wharf Street, reported two windows were broken in his shop. There was blood on the curb.

Eino Niemi and William Huk, Port Renfrew, were admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital yesterday suffering slight head injuries sustained by falling timber in up-island logging operations. They were brought to town from Sooke in the C. and C. ambulance. They will be in hospital for a few days under the care of Dr. Frank Bryant.

The appeal of Wynan Ernest Wessels from a Supreme Court order of Mr. Justice A. M. Manson, denying him appearance in a judicial separation case on the grounds he was in contempt of court, opened before the Court of Appeal today. Contempt consisted of failure to pay into court certain costs ordered by the registrar pending the judicial separation hearing.

The Victoria and District Parent-Teacher Council has accepted the invitation of Oaklands P.T.A. to meet in the library at Oaklands School on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Delegates of the P.T.A.'s affiliated with the council are asked to invite any other members who would like to attend. Members of the council and visitors will be guests of the Oaklands P.T.A. in the auditorium following the meeting, when refreshments will be served.

James Turner won the Archdeacon A. J. B. Dewdney Challenge, Shield, highest award for livestock, at the Saanich Fair yesterday, with 47 points. Mrs. Ian Douglas was second, only one point behind. George Little took the J. W. Tolmie cup for best collection of vegetables. D. H. Heyer won the George Stewart cup for best miscellaneous collection of Saanich grown fruit. Dorothy Adams, Sidney, won first place in the girls' class for best pair of chickens, any breed.

ST. MARK'S A.Y.P.A.

St. Mark's A.Y.P.A. meeting Tuesday evening, Eileen Cross presiding, decided to hold the initiation for new members on October 15. The first A.Y.P.A. court whist party will be held in St. Mark's Hall on October 9. The money received will go toward the St. Mark's taxes. Josephine Davies will be the third local counsel representative and Margaret George the debating convener.

B.C. PRECEDENT—Elevation of Hon. D. A. McDonald, above, from the Supreme Court of British Columbia to the Court of Appeal established a departure in the usual method of appointment to British Columbia's highest court. Until Mr. Justice McDonald was chosen no Supreme Court justices had been selected for that office since that division of the bench was made separate from the circuit court. "Only time will tell how the experiment will work," Mr. Justice McDonald remarked as he assumed his new post here at the beginning of the week.

Registration Rules Explained

"Notices of changes in address or status under the national registration must be sent to the Dominion Statistician at Ottawa and not the local registrar, Sydney Child, registrar for Greater Victoria said today.

Application should be made to the same sources in the cases of a lost certificate, he said.

Section 27 of the National Registration Act explains that any person registered under the act who afterward marries or changes his or her place of residence, must notify the Dominion Statistician within 14 days.

In the case of a marriage, the date and the name and place of residence and post office address to which the man or woman has moved, as the case may be, must be included in the notification.

Any person who fails, refuses or neglects to comply with these provisions will be liable to a fine not exceeding $50.

Enquiries as to correct procedure to be taken under the National Service Act, which calls for a month's training of single men of the 21 to 22 year age group should be made to C. G. Pennock, registrar for British Columbia at Vancouver.

KILLED BY SNAG

Peter Mvukuski, a Ukrainian, 38, was killed by a falling snag at Port Renfrew yesterday, the island division of the B.C. Provincial Police reported today. While it had not been confirmed, it was believed he was fighting a slash fire at the time of the accident. An inquest will be held at Port Renfrew.

Mykusi had no relatives in this country, but named as his next friend Peter Maxwell, 2186 43rd Avenue, Vancouver.

Erring Motorists Pay $274 in 3 Days

The pocketbooks of erring motorists have been hit hard this week in City Police Court.

This morning fines imposed totaled $130, while on Monday $85 was collected, and $59 on Wednesday, making a three-day traffic fine total of $274.

Today five motorists were fined $10 each for exceeding the 30-mile-an-hour speed limit, while two paid the same sum for traveling more than 15 miles an hour in school zones. One motorist was fined $5 for making a U-turn in a prohibited zone, and another the same for disobeying a police siren. Seven were fined $2.50 each for parking over the hour, and six the same for parking over two hours. For night parking three car drivers were fined $2.50 apiece.

ESQUIMALT HOUSE OPENED YESTERDAY

Esquimalt House, a social centre established by the Presbyterian Church in Canada at 1280 Park Terrace for men of the three services and their wives, was opened yesterday afternoon at a brief service.

In charge of the ceremony was Rev. Peter McNabb, former moderator of the Victoria Presbytery. He was assisted by Rev. James Hyde and Rev. J. Mackie Niven.

Mrs. T. J. Lister gave two appropriate vocal solos, "Bless This House," and "This England of Mine," with Mrs. Hyde accompanying.

Among the guests which included more than 60 wives of service men, was Rev. Arthur Bischlager, Rev. James Hood and Percy Wills, Shantymen's missionary. Those present were shown over the house and were served afternoon tea followed by an entertainment.

A knitting and sewing club was formed by a group of sailors' wives present to which other wives of sailors will be welcomed. The club will meet regularly. Soldiers' wives and airmen's wives are expected to form clubs also.

Members of St. Andrew's Church Y.P.S., last night entertained 40 new ratings of the Naval Barracks with a skit, "The Spinsters' Convention." Those who took part were Nancy Cameron, Marjorie Kennedy, Margaret Gray and Ethel Wilson.

Convener of the evening program was Rev. J. L. W. McLean of St. Andrew's Church. Community singing and games were enjoyed in addition to the play. Art McCoy was in charge of the games.

Victoria Aerie No. 12, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will meet Wednesday night at 7.30 in the new headquarters, 751 View Street. Following the meeting a supper will be held. All Eagles baseball players are urged to attend.

How to Overcome Piles and Rectal Soreness

If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness or painful passage of stool, is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose get from Modern Pharmacy and Cunningham Drug Store or any drugist, a package of Hemoroid and use as directed.
This formula, which is used internally, quickly relieves the itching and soreness and aids in healing the sore, tender spots.
Hemoroid is highly recommended, is easy to use and it seems the height of folly for anyone suffering from hemorrhoids to neglect remedy, which is so pleasant to use may be had at such a reasonable cost.

STILL CARRIES ON—Bombed so often that its section of southeast England has been dubbed "Hell's Corner," the port of Dover has taken heavy punishment from German raiders. Photo shows a pall of smoke hanging over the closely-set houses of the town after an air battle. (Movietone News).

Japanese Land Near Haiphong

By C. YATES McDaniel

HAIPHONG, French Indo-
China (AP)—Two thousand Japanese troops landed this morning six miles from this port without firing a shot and without meeting French resistance after three Japanese planes had bombed a nearby railroad crossing, killing and wounding 15 natives.

Shortly after noon the Japanese troops, led by a squadron of light tanks, marched to quarters which the French had provided.

The Japanese commander paid his respects to the French officers and expressed regrets for the aerial bombing. He said it was a mistake.

The landing on the coast was in fulfillment of a Japanese-French agreement which is being put into effect, despite the Japanese army's forcible entry across the Chinese border—which the French say violated the pact.

RIO—"Cowboys from Texas," starring Robert Livingston.

Cowboys from Texas

With the opening of the latest
Republic western starring Three Mesquiteres, "Cowboys from Texas," patrons of the Rio Theatre are taken back to the lusty vigorous days.

One of the irrigation projects in Texas provides the thesis for "Cowboys from Texas," which bears out the contention that the Three Mesquiteres, Robert
Livingstone, Raymond Hatton and Duncan Renaldo, are among the top bracket of western attractions.

Mortal Storm

Looking at history in the present rather than the past tense,
"The Mortal Storm," a thrilling drama of current world affairs opened today at the Atlas Theatre for an engagement of three days.

With an all-star cast headed by Margaret Sullivan, James Stewart,
Robert Young and Frank
Morgan, the dramatic new offering, based on Phyllis Bottome's best-seller novel, brings to the screen ample food for thought.

International News Is Picture Theme

"Foreign Correspondent," a combination of excitement, romance and international intrigue, will open Saturday at the Capitol Theatre.

The story deals with the adventures of a New York newspaper reporter who is sent to Europe to dig up facts. He uncovers more than he expected and reveals exciting international intrigue.

The film was directed by Alfred Hitchcock, who was responsible for such notable screen successes as "Rebecca," "The 39 Steps," and "The Lady Vanishes."

Joel McCrea plays the part of the reporter and his brilliant performance is matched by those of other featured players such as Laraine Day, George Sanders,
Robert Benchley and Herbert Marshall.

During the 17th century, gallant young blades of England proffered tomato plants to their sweet hearts as symbols of their love.

Herbert Wheeler Soon to Retire

Herbert Wheeler, native of Victoria, who went north in the 90's as a clerk and worked his way to the presidency of the White Pass and Yukon Route, will retire at the end of the year and come to this city to live.

Cliff J. Rogers, vice-president and general manager of the company since 1938, will succeed Mr. Wheeler.

Mr. Wheeler has seen the development of the far north transportation from the days when dogs sleds and snowshoes were the only means of travel between Whitehorse, Dawson and Nome. He was first associated with the Canadian Development Company, which was taken over by the White Pass and Yukon in 1901.

Mr. Wheeler went to the Yukon as a young man in 1897. He joined the Canadian Development Company as clerk in the river division office at Whitehorse.

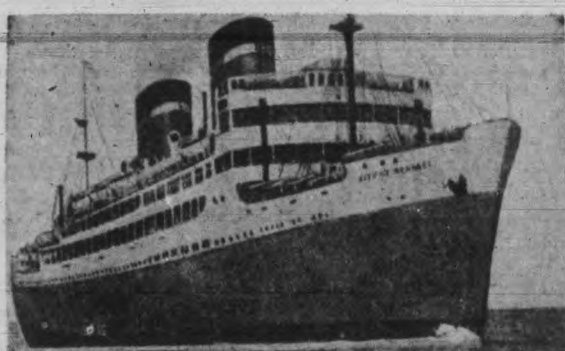

Later he was transferred to the stage line—carrying mail between Whitehorse, Dawson and Nome. "The first winter I was there we used dogs exclusively on the run from Dawson to Nome," Mr. Wheeler recalls.

He was working in the office, but often made the long trek in emergency.

"We only had the Dawson to Nome stage line service a short time," he says. "Until United States contractors took it over." Mr. Wheeler says the day of the sled dog is done. Mail and passenger travel is handled by plane today.

"Trips that once took two or three weeks, now take two to three hours."

The White Pass & Yukon Company rail line runs from Skagway

MERCY SHIP VICTIM OF TORPEDO—Bound for Canada, bearing evacuees from Britain, the City of Benares, 11,000-ton passenger ship of the Elmerman Line, was struck by a German torpedo in a stormy sea and sank in 20 minutes 600 miles off the Irish coast. Victims of this latest German outrage were 87 children and 206 adults bound for Canadian homes.

way, Alaska, over the pass to Whitehorse, Y.T. It operates all year round despite snow conditions, although winter maintenance costs are way out of proportion to the meagre revenue from passengers and freight. The railway is 110 miles long. It was built for, and is today, merely a link between ocean and river transportation in the north. Passengers, freight and mail are freighted to Whitehorse by train, then carried by river steamer to their destinations.

RIVER FLEET

The White Pass & Yukon route operates a good-sized fleet of river boats. Three operate regularly between Whitehorse and Dawson; in season, one boat runs to Mayo, on the Stewart River, and another on the lake division, in the Atlin district. And there are spare boats for emergencies.

The largest of the company's river vessels carries a crew of 25 to 30 men, and carries tons of freight to otherwise isolated sections of the northland.

Half a dozen planes are operated by the firm. This newest department of the White Pass & Yukon route came into being six or seven years ago. The planes run on regular schedule between Whitehorse, Mayo and Dawson, and the company pilots do a great deal of "bush flying" as well.

"Bush flying" is the transportation of trappers and prospectors to their trappings and "digging." The planes fly the men and supplies in, and pick them up again at specified times. Mr. Wheeler expects to go back to the north country on periodic visits. He has spent 41 years of his life in the northland, and admits that "it gets in your blood."

During his younger days the retiring president of the White Pass & Yukon route spent 15 years in Alaska and the Yukon without once coming "outside."

BRITISH IMPORTS UP

MONTREAL (CP)—The government announced today British imports increased $8,012,326 in August over July and $13,946,737 over August, 1939.

Total imports were valued at $95,019,856. Exports totaled $32,554,729, an increase of $1,365,485 July and a decrease of $4,522,245 compared with August, 1939.

C.N.R. REVENUE UP

MONTREAL (CP)—Decrease of $607,793 was reported today by Canadian National Railways in gross revenues of $5,043,389 for week ended September 27 compared with $5,651,182 in the corresponding period of 1939.

Navy's Work Not All at Sea

By E. L. WILLIAMS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN

PORT—All the Royal Canadian Navy's work isn't done at sea by any means, as a glance at operations at this port will show.

The senior naval officer actually holds three offices, naval control officer and officer in charge of auxiliary vessels based here. He is responsible not only for the direction of shipping and naval services at this port, but other coastal centres in the province as well.

A daily average of 11 ships are loading. And when the St. Lawrence River freezes up the number will be more than doubled. In addition loadings at other ports in the province have increased greatly since the German invasion of Norway forced Britain to seek pit props and lumber elsewhere.

Perhaps the heart of the naval control service building is the routing from which are controlled the movements of all outgoing shipping. It is in charge of a Prince Edward Island-born officer who was one of the youngest captains in the Canadian merchant marine service when he first got his master's papers.

An examination vessel checks up on all incoming vessels and patrol ships cruise outside the port. Inside, harbor patrol craft flit around from dock to dock, keeping a constant watch on piers and harbor works, never twice taking the same route and under way at least 20 hours of the 24. They may head out from a pier seemingly bound across the harbor only to return a few minutes later and cruise nearby again. Thus no one can keep track of their movements and be assured of an uninterrupted chance for sabotage.

The navy is ingenious, too. It was in need of a depot ship at this port and none was available. So an old public works department dredge was obtained, cleaned up and fitted out for that purpose. No one looking at her cabins, repair shops and store-rooms would recognize in her the dredge of a few months ago.

It was at this port that it was found necessary to issue an unusual order which asked that all men not desiring to be transferred to destroyers hand in their names.

The reason was that the staff was overwhelmed with requests, often in some disguise such as a plea for "turbine experience"—which may be obtained in destroyers—for transfers to active service. They decided it would be far easier to record only the men who didn't want the transfer.

It was, so far they haven't had a request.

SAILOR REGAINED HIS LOST WALLET

MONTREAL, N.B.—Sailors are proverbially a happy-go-lucky lot. There is one member of His Majesty's Royal Canadian Navy now speeding on a Canadian National train to a western Canadian port who literally fulfills this definition. He left an eastern Canadian port with a party of sailors and on arriving at Montreal found he had lost his wallet, which contained his transportation and a sum of money. Diligent search was made at the time for the missing wallet but it could not be found. The sailor was tired over his difficulties temporarily and he continued on his way.

In the meantime the coach in which he had been riding had gone to the railway coach yard for inspection and cleaning as a matter of routine, when Car Inspector Aurele Bourque spotted the missing wallet in the coach and promptly turned it over to the investigation department of the railway.

When the sailor got to Montreal he was advised of the finding of his wallet with everything intact and it went forward immediately by Trans-Canada Air Lines air mail to catch up with him at his destination.

Bonds

NEW YORK (AP)—Small selling orders were a preponderant element in today's bond market and most groups fell back a little.

U.S. governments shaded lower. A number of foreign dollar loans also lost ground. Declines were general in the Italian and Japanese groups, and German government unstamped 7s of '49 recorded a drop of nearly 5 points as compared with the previous sale in late August. Norway 4½s were down about 4.

Leaders Back Away

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market ran up against further complicating foreign news today and leaders generally backed away moderately.

Trading forces inclined to lighten commitments in the forenoon when the White House announced an embargo on iron and steel scrap to all countries except those in the western hemisphere and Great Britain. This, it was feared, might widen the gap between the United States and Japan, as the latter has been the biggest purchaser of scrap in this country. In addition, the British withdrawal from Dakar was interpreted as bearish.

On the downside the greater part of the session was U.S. Steel, Chrysler, Douglas Aircraft, Westinghouse, Allied Chemical, Montgomery Ward, Johns-Manville, Santa Fe, Anaconda and International Harvester.

Preferred issues of Mengel, Penn Dixie, Conestoga and Austin Nickel got ahead, but recent senior stock climbers took a rest.

Among Canadian issues International Nickel and Dome Mines lost fractions, while Distillers Seagram gained as much, Canada 4s, in the bond market, held unchanged.

Jaguar Is S. America's Fiercest Beast

When white men first reached the New World, they did not find so many large, wild beasts as exist in Africa.

There were no elephants in either North or South America in the time of Leif Erikson or Christopher Columbus. Long, long ago, wild elephants of several kinds roamed over our continent, but the last of them seem to have died thousands of years ago. We know about them only because of the skeletons which have been found here and there.

A South American jaguar.

The largest animals on our continent when men from Europe first explored it were buffaloes, Kodiak bears, grizzly bears, polar bears, moose and elk.

The animals I have named did not exist in South America. Instead of them, the southern continent had such beasts as tapirs, armadillos, anteaters, llamas and alpacas—not to speak of monkeys.

The fiercest of all South American animals was—and is—the jaguar. This big cat ranks third in size among the members of the cat family. Only the lion and the tiger are larger.

The average length of a full-grown jaguar is about six and a half feet. Now and then, however, a jaguar from seven to eight feet is found. The figures I have given include the length of the tail.

A jaguar is spotted, and in this way is like an African leopard. The spots are black on a brown or yellowish coat.

Perching on the limb of a tree, the jaguar waits to pounce on its prey. It attacks and kills deer, tapirs and monkeys. Its food also includes birds, turtles and fish.

Jaguars do not often attack people, but cases are on record where they have done so. It is believed they are afraid to attack men unless driven by great hunger.

The small piglike animals called peccaries are victims of jaguars, but the big cats are careful about the way they attack a herd. Peccaries stand together in face of danger, and could kill even a jaguar if it did not get out of the way in a hurry.

When hunting peccaries, a jaguar leaps into a herd and seizes one of them in its mouth. Then it climbs a tree as fast as possible, and waits there until the rest of the peccaries go away. Jaguars have been shot in California and Texas, but they are rare north of Mexico.

HOROSCOPE

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 27

After the early morning, adverse planetary aspects rule today. While there is a good sign for men in high positions, financiers and bankers, the stars frown upon workers in many fields of effort.

Women are well directed under this way which exacts unselfish service. Many love affairs will mark the autumn and the remainder of the year as the young reach out for happiness. Marriages will multiply and economic obstacles will be ignored.

European conditions will become more difficult to accept as winter draws near. Malefic planetary influences will affect India. Seismic disturbances are indicated in the Orient. There are aspects read as inspiring for the British who will demonstrate more and more the splendid fibre of the people of the long-dominant Empire. There are still evil portents for the navy. Epidemics will affect many nations of Europe where undernourishment will reduce resistance to disease.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of progress, but it is wise to cut down family expenditures wherever economies are possible.

Children born on this day probably will be self-reliant, faithful and optimistic. These subjects of an air sign usually love beauty and the finer things of life.

Meteorite Stones

One of the best tests in determining a meteorite stone is by its weight. Made up largely of iron, its heft is "stiffer" than that of a terre trial rock.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

ANSWER: All are right... unless one classifies the monkey as an ape. Usually the word "ape" is used in reference to the large Old World anthropoids only.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I earn my living with my brain and my particular pleasure in life is good conversation and discussions, anything mentally stimulating. When I married a pretty young girl five years ago, I knew she was no mental giant, but I thought she would improve. She hasn't.

We love each other deeply and so far have been happy. She is thoughtful, unselfish, a fine cook, a good housekeeper, enjoys the same sports that I do and is a real pal and a good wife, but I have never yet been able to adjust myself to her vacuous conversation and her dull remarks in company. Nor can I avoid the fear that in later years when golf and swimming and baby talk are out of the picture that our present married happiness may cease. What can you suggest?

ANSWER: You can't change a Dumb Dora into a Dorothy Parker, so you will have to meet the situation philosophically and console yourself with the thought that you can't have everything in marriage.

After all, you spend most of your life in association with people who are your mental equal, and coming home at night to a wife who is sweet and amiable and who makes you a comfortable home isn't the worst that could befall you.

And don't forget that your wife is your pick.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am 16 years old. Have had many love affairs, but this is the real thing, I am sure. I am in love with my teacher, who is a married man of 30 with three children. He writes me notes in school telling of his love for me and that his wife does not understand him, but that I do. For the sake of his children he feels that he should not divorce his wife. Sometimes I feel like ending it all, for I dread to think of life without him.

ANSWER: Well, don't commit suicide for the sake of a cad such as your teacher is. Any married man with a wife and three children who would have an affair with a 16-year-old girl is so mean and low that he would take candy from a baby and steal the pennies off a dead man's eyes.

CRASH IN ONTARIO KILLS 6 SOLDIERS

NEWMARKET, Ont.—Officials are investigating an automobile-truck crash on a highway near this town, 28 miles north of Toronto, early this morning in which six members of the Canadian Active Service Force were killed. The truck had stopped at a signal light.

Four of the killed were members of the No. 1 Infantry Training Company at Camp Borden, and the other two were members of the Essex Scottish Regiment, which was mobilized at Windsor, Ont. The only other occupant of the car, also a member of the Essex Scottish, suffered injuries. The truck driver, Steve Marych, escaped with a shaking up.

Those killed were Cecil Seaton and L. A. Chapman of the Essex Scottish and A. C. Carter, W. S. Gaines, D. Kemlock and A. Forsythe of No. 1 Infantry Training Company.

The soldiers were driving to the Camp Borden military base, which is approximately 32 miles north of here.

The signal light at which the accident occurred is situated on the Young Street Highway at a point where a road turns off to Newmarket.

Criminologists once believed there was a criminal type face, but such views have not stood the test of time and no longer are held by the majority.

The gourde, Haitian monetary unit, today is a silver coin worth approximately one dollar.

HOMELESS FINNS GET NEW FARMS

HELSINKI (AP)—Large Finnish swamps and forests are being cleared to give new homes and farms to 12 per cent of the population—evacuees of war-torn Karelia.

These 420,000 Karelians, along with 15,000 from the areas of Salla, Kuusamo and Hangö, came away from the territories ceded to Russia with the fewest of personal possessions, and with no land or jobs to which they could easily go.

The government, recognizing the Karelians' problem as the most pressing of those it is making strenuous efforts to solve, has set about with outright grants of cash for emergency relief, and by allotment of dwellings, lands and tools for work.

This is the situation at the moment: Vast areas of swampland are being cleared, to provide new soil.

The state has purchased sections of large western farms, and allotted these sections to Karelians, who need pay nothing for five years; eventual payment will be to the state, on an instalment plan.

Forest areas are being converted in the central sections. State-owned land will be given outright to those in extreme need.

DOUBLE WIN BIG FACTOR

ers Bill Lawrence and JoJo White, won the first game last night, 8 to 2. Seattle, often a Shaughnessy playoff entry, is seeking to add the playoff laurels to its league championship for the first time.

The teams will meet in a double-header tonight before entraining for Los Angeles to finish the four-out-of-seven series. Hal Turpin, winner of 23 games during the regular schedule, will pitch the first game for Seattle, probably opposing Ray Prim. Lee Stine is scheduled for Angel mound work in the second against either Ira Scribner or Aldon Wilkie, a southpaw.

Four Los Angeles errors contributed to the rout of the Angels last night as three Angel pitchers were pounded for 11 hits. Lawrence hit two triples and a single and White connected for two doubles. A four-run outburst in the fifth clinched the game for Seattle. Julio Bonetti was driven from the mound with only one out.

Los Angeles' two runs came on two hits in the fifth, one a triple by Lou Stringer.
